

LIQUOR RUNNER
NOW SOUGHT IN LINDBERGH CASE

His Reported Knowledge Of Baby's Death Is Of Importance

BULLETIN.
Danbury, Conn., May 21—(AP)—Dr. John F. Condon, "Jasfite" of the Lindbergh kidnapping case, arrived at a roadhouse on the outskirts of Danbury shortly before noon (EST) today, after driving up here at a high rate of speed from New York. Two New York detectives, trailing him in another car, said they did not know themselves where he and they were going.

"We haven't the slightest idea," one of them said.

Condon announced he was going to have lunch at the roadhouse, but did not say where he was going from there.

He ran into some acquaintances in the cafe and, pointing to the reporters and the detectives with a smile, said:

"I just can't seem to get away for a quiet little jaunt by myself."

SEEK GANGSTER
Hopewell, N. J., May 21—(AP)—Search was intensified today for the mysterious gangster, believed to be connected with the Lindbergh kidnap case, who recently said in Maryland, before the body had been found, that the body was dead.

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, Supt. of State Police, disclosed for the first time yesterday that this gangster was being sought and today he gave him first mention in his morning bulletin.

"Investigators who are investigating the whereabouts of the gangster reported in Maryland and thought to be connected with the case," he said, "have been unable to locate him as yet and are continuing their investigation."

IS LIQUOR RUNNER
Baltimore, May 21—(AP)—A man long identified with New Jersey liquor running activities was disclosed today as the "mysterious gangster in Maryland" sought for questioning in the Lindbergh kidnaping case.

The man, who remained unnamed informed Arthur Mills, identification expert at the Maryland House of Correction, that the body of the kidnapped child would be found within five miles of the Lindbergh estate two days before it actually was discovered.

Mills, formerly a member of the Maryland State Police, said the rum runner further informed him that the baby had been killed by blows on the head and that the body had been hidden near the flier's home.

"I didn't pay any attention to it at the time," Mills said, "but later when I read that the body had been found, I communicated my information to Col. Norman Schwarzkopf of the New Jersey police. Two officers came here yesterday to investigate it."

Mills said he had first known the man at Ocean City, Md., in December, 1929, when more than a score of men were arrested while attempting to land a cargo of liquor on the beach.

Frank Donaldson, Polo Farmer, Dead
(Telephone Special Service)
Polio, May 21—Frank Donaldson, all his life a farmer in this vicinity, passed away about 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at his home five miles west of the city, in which vicinity he was born, August 25, 1856, and where he spent his life. Funeral services will be held at the home Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. C. L. Kammerer assisted by Rev. N. E. Royer, officiating and with burial at Fairmont.

Mr. Donaldson was married, on December 21, 1881, to Miss Mary Davidson, who survives him, together with four daughters, Mrs. Grace Fraser and Mrs. Hazel Davidson of Polio, Mrs. Mary Short of Aurora and Mrs. Eva Davidson of Mt. Morris; a son, Wade of Polio, and six brothers.

Veteran, Aged 93, Drowns Self Today
Danville, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Ignoring cries of two men who saw him walk into the water and spurning the stick they extended to him, J. Amour, 93-year-old Civil War veteran, drowned himself in the lake at the Soldiers' Home reservation here early today.

Friends said he had been despondent. He served with the First Illinois Cavalry and was a printer on St. Louis newspapers following the war. A daughter, Mrs. Ann A. Lucky, 4319 West Pine Boulevard, St. Louis, survives.

Offers To Show Judge Speakeasies
Springfield, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Coinciding with the raiding of nine Springfield speakeasies by prohibition enforcement agents yesterday, a resident of Havana, assisting non-support charges preferred by his wife, told County Judge Irwin that "in half an hour I can take you to twenty-four speakeasies and not go more than a block from this courtroom."

FOR JUNIOR TEAM
A movement to organize a junior baseball team in Dixon will be made Monday evening when all boys under the age of 20 who think they have the ability to make the team are invited to attend a meeting at the Hub billiard parlor. John Valle, proprietor, has agreed to book games for the boys and to provide them a capable coach.

NO FURTHER WARNING
F. J. Rosbrook, State Automobile Investigator, has received the following instruction from headquarters: "Many people are ignoring warning from this office and our officers to secure licenses for their cars. You are therefore instructed to arrest and prosecute, beginning at once, violators who have not complied with the provision of Sections 8 and 9 of the Motor Vehicle Law."

I. N. U. Lineman Is Instantly Killed

George Price, aged 27, Illinois Northern Utilities Company lineman, of Oregon, was electrocuted while working on the 23,000-volt line north of Mt. Morris about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Other linemen, who were working with him saw his plight, and one of them climbed the pole, removed his body from the wire, and carried it to the ground. Attempts to revive him by artificial respiration were of no avail.

A verdict of accidental death caused by electrocution was returned by a jury under Coroner Jesse C. Atkins.

Price is survived by a widow and a child.

ROBBERS' LOOT MAY REACH $500 OFFICERS SAY

Burglary Committed By Someone Familiar With Building

The offices at the high school building were entered and ransacked during the night and between $350 and $500 taken from a safe, it was reported to the police this morning. Janitors discovered the robbery when they entered the building this morning and found tools scattered about on the floor of the hallway on the first floor and immediately reported to the police.

Entrance was gained by breaking a window in the north side of the building into the agricultural department where the desk of the instructor, John N. Weiss, was pried open and ransacked. The intruders, who are believed to have removed their shoes and walked through the building in their stocking feet, then went to the manual training department, where the desk and locker of the instructor, D. C. Austin were opened and ransacked. Tools which were used in forcing the doors to the main office and in opening the safe, were selected from the manual training department.

Battering Safe Combination
Battering the combination off the safe in the office, the thieves succeeded in opening the doors and removing the contents, consisting of cash and checks. In one compartment class rings and pins were also taken. One of the gold class pins bore the initials, "E. A. S., '33" and one of the gold class rings, "L. C. '32". Principal A. H. Lancaster reported to Chief J. D. Vanbibber today. Several checks which were made out to Principal Lancaster were also taken from the safe, one in the sum of $11.25 and another for $17.00. The local banks were notified as soon as possible to be on the lookout for the checks.

Indications are that the intruders were thoroughly acquainted with the class rooms in the building as well as the general offices. After completing the rifling of the safe, they departed, leaving tools scattered about on the floor. A door in the north side of the building, an exit from the agricultural department, was opened to permit the intruders to escape. A dollar bill and a dime were found near this door this morning. The police after conducting an investigation were of the opinion that the robbery was the work of those who were thoroughly acquainted with the rooms in the building, but doubted that professionals were involved.

Shortly before noon today, Chief Van Bibber intimated that the loss might run as high as $500. The exact amount not being determined until a careful checkup, which could not be made until Monday.

Paw Paw Widow Wins Estate Suit

Judge Harry Edwards in the Circuit Court this morning handed down a decision in a case which has been contested before the master in chancery, James W. Watts, in the County Court before Judge Litch and finally into the Circuit Court in which Mrs. Mary Fiske of Paw Paw contested the contract and will of her late husband, Alexander Fiske. Judge Edwards this morning held that the contract was invalid, which in substance entitles the widow to her share or about one-half of the estate which was said to be valued at about $50,000, there being no children as heirs.

Attorney Robert Bracken of the firm of Dixon, Devine, Egan & Dixon of this city appeared for Mrs. Fiske and Ray T. Lane of Chicago appeared for the legatees. The contract and will left by Alexander Fiske made no provisions for his wife's benefitting from his estate following his death.

German: Ernest J. Pevlik of Harvey, Ill., full scholarship.

Mathematics: Arthur W. Burks of Batavia, Ill., full scholarship.

Physics: Edgar A. Post, Elgin, Ill., half scholarship; Milton P. Vore, Kenilworth, Ill., honorable mention.

MRS. LOUISA L. SMITH DIED AT HER HOME HERE

Well Known Musician Passed Away After Long Illness

Mrs. Louisa Lyon Smith, widow of the late Will Smith, prominent in musical circles and in the organization and direction of orchestras in Dixon and vicinity for the past 35 years, passed away at her home, 528 North Ottawa avenue, yesterday afternoon at 2:15, her death ending from a lingering illness.

Mrs. Smith was born in Atkinson, Ill., and had attained the age of 69 years, five months and 20 days. She had been a resident of Dixon for the past 49 years.

Her husband preceded her in death in March, 1925. Both had been foremost organizers of musical organizations in Dixon during the past 35 years. Her husband was a prominent band director and composer. Mrs. Smith organized and conducted several orchestras, one of her last activities being the forming of the Dixon Symphony orchestra. She was also active as organist and director of orchestras in the local churches. She is survived by a son, Dale Smith of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Helen Ransom, who has been with her during the greater part of her last illness.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. B. Norman Burke of St. Luke's Episcopal church officiating, and with interment in Oakwood.

CONFESSION OF MEMBER PEORIA GANG ADMITTED

Judge In Kidnap Case Decided Important Issue This Morn

Peoria, Ill., May 21—(AP)—A confession signed by one of the alleged kidnapers of Dr. James W. Parker was ruled admissible by Judge Henry Ingram today but it took so long to settle the point that the trial was adjourned over the week-end before the statement could be read to the jury.

The trial of the 12 persons charged with kidnaping Dr. Parker was sidetracked again as soon as today's session opened. Sergeant Harry Trautsch of the State Highway Police, who arrested two of the defendants, was placed on the stand for the purpose of getting into the records the alleged confession of Eddie Woodford, one of the men alleged to have guarded Dr. Parker while he was held for ransom.

The defense objected and the jury was sent out as a hearing was held. Woodford took the stand to say the confession was forced from him by severe beatings. He which the defense contended showed a discolored of the right eye and which Woodford said was caused by the beating he was given by police.

Three other defendants, Dean Stoops, and Cecil Minninger, all told the court they saw evidence of a beating on Woodford's face.

Manhandling Denied
Sergeant Trautsch and other officers denied manhandling the prisoner and said he made the confession of his own free will. Judge Ingram ruled in favor of the prosecution but adjourned court for the week-end before the confession had been read to the jury.

Testimony of Chicago's Secret Six Agents that they wired the office of Attorney Joseph Pursfull and overheard conversations he had regarding the kidnaping has also been admitted in court over the objections of the defense.

Pursfull has steadfastly denied any connection with the plot, declaring he merely acted as intermediary between the kidnapers and family. His counsel contended installation of telephone devices in his office was a violation of constitutional rights.

The court, however, permitted the agents to testify yesterday. Sgt. Roy Steffens, now with the Chicago Police Department, said he heard Pursfull ask the physician's son about ransom money, and later request another person to "get in touch with the fellows."

The other agent, Louis Nichols, said he helped install a dictaphone in Pursfull's office and heard the lawyer use the telephone while Steffens was listening.

COUNTERFEITERS HELD
Ottawa, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Four alleged counterfeiters arrested here Thursday were held to the grand jury today by U. S. Commissioner Thomas A. White. Robert Jukich was held under $10,000 bond while $5,000 bond was fixed for Nicholas Bodgan, Peter I. Milosovich and Nicholas Roseto. They had six bogus $20 bills in their pockets when arrested.

FLEW ATLANTIC OCEAN ALONE

Here is a new and striking sketch of the American aviatrix the first woman in history to make a solo flight over the Atlantic ocean. With Paris as her goal Mrs. Putnam who took off from Harbor Grace N. F. at 4:51 P. M. (EST) yesterday, brought her plane down in Ireland this afternoon being forced to land there because the exhaust manifold of her plane had burned off and the gasoline gauge was broken.

DESPONDENT AND IDLE, WAR HERO KILLED FAMILY

Austrian Veteran In Wisconsin Turned Rifle On Self

Phillips, Wis., May 21—(AP)—A World War veteran of the Austrian army, apparently brooding because unemployment compelled him to accept charity of relatives, killed his wife and two little children and committed suicide on his brother-in-law's farm yesterday.

The veteran was Martin Taras, 31, and the victims of his temperamental derangement which, officials said, was also brought about by war injuries, were his wife, Julia, and Rose, 4, and John, 2½ years old. The father apparently leveled the rifle he used at the boy while playing.

Taras emigrated from Czechoslovakia to the United States in 1930 and from October that year until February 1931, hunted a job in Chicago. Unsuccessful and his savings dwindling, he accepted the invitation of John Gnid, his brother-in-law, to live on one of Gnid's two farms 11 miles northwest of here.

Neighbors said his relations with them and his wife and the children were always pleasant but a note he left in his native language indicated he had been brooding. It was apparent he had been planning the shooting for some time. The authorities, directed by the note, found his "footnote," $540, buried under a barrel in the basement.

Although no coroner's jury was impaneled in the absence of Coroner Walter Blume, other county officials—Sheriff Walter Berg and State's Attorney Louis Koenig—said it was a clear case of murder and suicide.

Amboy Student At University Honored

Urbana, Ill., May 21—(AP)—The Mawanda, senior men's honorary organization, gained 25 members in the annual election from the junior ranks at the University of Illinois yesterday.

Among the 25 were:

William Arnold of Robinson; Warren Badger of Amboy; Harry Barber of Aurora; Caslon Bennett of Marshall; Gilbert Berry of Abington; Alfred Bodman of Bement; Walter Busker of Peoria; Paul Chevinko of Witt; Robert Dwyer of Elgin; Robert Hawkins of Kankakee; Harold Mount of Mattoon; Morrow Schnell of Canton; O. B. Willett of Effingham; Robert Wisley of Champaign.

"Genius Died Leaving Debts Of $168,300,000"

Stockholm, May 20—(AP)—Ivar Kreuger, the world-famous "Match King," until he fired a bullet into his brain in Paris March 12, was considered the greatest financial genius of modern times, died practically penniless and owing $168,300,000, it was revealed today.

The announcement was made by the Swedish investigating committee which has been probing Kreuger's affairs since his suicide.

The $168,300,000 is in personal debts and indirect liability against the match king's name, the committee said, and there will be little, if anything, left for distribution to unsecured creditors.

The committee found that fictitious assets were set up on the Kreuger & Toll books since 1924 and that the state of the books was such that it was extraordinarily difficult to produce a definite balance sheet for the company.

"This being the case, the committee considers there is no longer any need for maintaining the existing moratorium, and it is therefore recommending to the board that it request the Swedish government to recall the moratorium and take the necessary steps to have the company declared bankrupt."

"In this connection the committee would point out that special bankruptcy legislation is in preparation intended to safeguard the interests of the entire body of creditors."

Kreuger's personal debts were about $93,500,000, the committee found, and there were indirect liabilities of about $74,800,000.

FIND OFFICES OF BROKER IN CHICAGO EMPTY

Investors Ask State's Attorney To Locate Their Securities

Chicago, May 21—(AP)—Investigators for the State's Attorney today raided the deserted offices of three investment houses occupying a suite in a downtown office building.

Clients of the three concerns had informed the prosecutors they had turned over to D. A. Dorry investments valued at $500,000 which they had feared were becoming worthless. Assistant State's Attorney L. P. Holt explained.

The investigators were seeking Dorry for explanation of the transactions. Those who said they had entrusted bonds, stocks and mortgages to him said they only knew he had given the name of Dorry and used the offices labeled "The Prudential Company," "The Bond Discount Company" and "Northwestern Investment Securities Corporation."

Whether Dorry was the same man whose investment house of D. A. Dorry & Company of Chicago and Davenport, Ia., was involved in Federal court bankruptcy proceedings a year ago was not known.

The raiders found the suite uncoccupied and were told by other tenants that it had been empty for a week. Armed with subpoenas for the records, they carted away a truck load of papers for examination to determine whether the Illinois blue sky laws had been violated.

Holt, who directed the raid with H. S. Weinberg, another Assistant State's Attorney, said 50 complaints had been received in recent weeks, most of them since Dorry's whereabouts became a mystery. He apparently was sole head of the three companies which, Holt said, solicited bonds and other securities for liquidation. The complainants said they had difficulty in obtaining the proceeds of the investments they had turned over to the companies.

When the investors insisted on repayment, however, the money was turned over to them, Holt said.

HEADS POSTMASTERS

Peoria, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Ben Landberg, Elgin postmaster, was elected president of the Illinois Association of Postmasters at the closing session of the convention today. Other officers were: S. H. Depew, Zion, first vice president; W. A. Fay, Jacksonville, second vice president; Bessie Reynolds, of Fort Sheridan, treasurer and C. C. Carey, Utica, secretary.

EX-LEGISLATOR DEAD

Springfield, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Elmer A. Perry, 71, former U. S. Representative in Bankruptcy and Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor in 1900 died at his home last night. He was a member of the General Assembly three terms.

OLDEST REBEKAH DEAD

Taylorville, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Mrs. Susan Harner, 100, regarded here as the oldest Rebekah in the state of Illinois, and charter member of the local lodge, died at her home this morning, surrounded by four generations of descendants.

AMELIA PUTNAM FIRST OF SEX TO MAKE FLIGHT

Forced To Bring Plane Down In Ireland: Paris Her Goal

BULLETIN
New York, May 21—(AP)—The Radio Marine Corp. announced the receipt at 9:40 A. M. Eastern Standard Time today, of this message from the German airliner DO-X:

"Position 14:00 Greenwich Mean Time (9 A. M. EST) 44 00 north, 41 15 west. Winds west southwest. Speed 90 knots. All clear."

Culmore, Ulster, Ireland, May 21—(AP)—Amelia Earhart Putnam brought down her red and gold monoplane in a field on the Donegal side of Lough Foyle this afternoon and thereby became the first woman ever to fly the Atlantic alone. She had made the trip of 2026.5 miles in 15 hours and 35 minutes.

She landed on this side of the ocean five hours and a day after Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh arrived at Le Bouget, France, successfully completing the first solo flight across the Atlantic by a man.

"I've done it!" Mrs. Putnam exclaimed when she got out of her ship.

She had intended to go to Paris but it was necessary to cut the flight short because her exhaust manifold had burned out and the gasoline gauge was broken, causing a little leakage.

Get Lift To City
The lithe, blonde flier, who took off from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, at 4:51 P. M. Eastern Standard time yesterday, got a lift by motor to Londonderry, five miles away, where the first thing she did was to get on the telephone to report her success to London in order that her husband, George Palmer Putnam, New York publisher, and her friends back home might know that she was safe. It was 2:30 P. M. (8:30 A. M. EST), when Mrs. Putnam landed here.

All Britain and France had been waiting eagerly for news of her, special interest centering on the fact that today was the fifth anniversary of the flight of Colonel Lindbergh, to whom attention had been directed anew by the tragic death of his child.

When Mrs. Putnam had reported that she was safe, she got into an automobile and left Londonderry for an unannounced destination.

Tank Nearly Empty
The difficulty with the exhaust manifold and with the gasoline gauge developed about four hours out of Harbor Grace, Mrs. Putnam said, but she decided to stick to it rather than turn back. There was hardly any gasoline left in the tank when she landed.

Her plane was not damaged in the landing and she was wholly unharmed.

"For a lot of the way," Mrs. Putnam said, "I was flying through storms—mist, rain and a little fog."

"To my friends in New York I want to send this message: I am very glad to have come across successfully, but I am sorry indeed I did not make France."

"I am going to speak to my husband as soon as I can by the Atlantic phone."

It was the flier's second airplane trip across the Atlantic. Back in June, 1928 before her marriage to Mr. Putnam, she made the crossing, that time a passenger.

"There is no comparison," she said in reply to a question about which trip she liked better. "On this go I was flying low the whole time and had to rely on myself."

"I am afraid I am a bit deaf after the terrible roar of the engine in my ears all the time, but at any rate I have done it."

By The Associated Press
Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, favored American terminal of ocean hoppers, sent two airplanes roaring into the east before Friday's dusk and Saturday's dawn.

—Amelia Earhart Putnam's unnamed monoplane and the 12-motored air liner, the Dornier DO-X.

Mrs. Putnam, the first woman to attempt to conquer the dangerous Atlantic airway alone, hopped unexpectedly at 4:51 P. M. Eastern Standard Time, Friday, smiling and waving a cheery goodbye to Bert Balchen, himself an ocean flier, whose shouted "Good luck!" was lost in the noise of her plane's motor, carrying her into the black night of great adventure.

Guards on the coast of Ireland were watching for her in clear mild morning when the DO-X, fueled to capacity, raced its 12 motors and taxied to a take-off on Mrs. Putnam's trail at 3 A. M. Eastern Standard Time today.

Mrs. Putnam was bound for Paris and perhaps beyond, depending on how well her 420 gallons of gasoline held out and how well her plane, capable of 180 miles an hour, performed.

The DO-X, largest heavier-than-air machine in the world was bought for the Azores. She carried 7,000 gallons of gasoline, and her commander, Captain Frederick Christiansen, estimated she would use in a single hour more fuel than Mrs. Putnam's single motored monoplane carried for a 20-hour flight.

RECORDS TOPPLE
IN TODAY'S MEET
OF H. S. ATHLETESStrong Of Dixon Is Tied For Second In Running High Jump

BULLETIN

Associated Press summaries of today's high school track and field meet at Champaign, show that Strong of Dixon tied with Spurgeon of Centralia and Pollensky of Roosevelt high, for second in the running high jump, which was won by Ray of Deerfield at 6 feet, 11 1/2 inches.

Memorial Stadium, Champaign, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Amid the breaking of eight Illinois prep records, Oak Park high school gained its third state championship in as many years by winning the thirty eighth annual interscholastic games here today. One national interscholastic mark was broken and one was equaled.

It was the 11th time since 1907 this school has won the championship. Only once before has a school won the championship three years in succession. University High of Chicago accomplished this feat 21 years ago.

Behind Oak Park, leading with thirty two points, in order came Joliet, 13 second; and Senn, Chicago 10, third.

Randall Herman, Oak Park's fleet footed dash star, shared honors with Fred (Fritz) Pollard, Senn Negro hurdler, in the orgy of record smashing that affected every standing track event except the half mile relay.

Herman won the 100 yard dash in 9.7 seconds, a tenth of a second better than Metcalfe's national interscholastic mark. A half hour later the Oak Park flash raced the 220 yard dash in 21.2, another tenth of a second off Metcalfe's record in that event.

WORLD WAR BY "YARNS" LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

By Taxi to the Front

When the Germans started their invasion of Belgium, four American war correspondents, Irvin S. Cobb, John T. McCutcheon, Will Irwin and Arno Dosch-Fleuret hurried to Brussels where, on the morning of August 18, 1914, they engaged a taxicab and started out to find the Belgian army. By noon they were in the thick of the fighting but not finding any place in the territory held by the Belgians where they wanted to stop they kept right on going.

LOVE GREATEST POWER OF ALL,
SAYS CANTRELLOverflow Crowd Heard
Evangelist In Eloquent Appeal

Rev. Grady Cantrell preached upon, "The Greatest Power in the World," last night to a crowd that overflowed the large tabernacle. The most powerful force, he asserted, is love. He presented several bible passages and incidents, illustrating his proposition and drew many examples from nature and history. There were ten conversions at the close of the sermon.

Ray Harris and Mrs. Teresa Cantrell sang a duet entitled, "Because His Name is Jesus." Several short choruses were sung by the choir during the spiritual song service. Rev. James A. Barnett, pastor of the Christian church introduced a bit of fun in a neat take-off on the evangelist, imitating some of his characteristic stunts, preceding an appeal for the free-will offering.

Opportunity will be given everybody to contribute to Rev. Cantrell's support each service over Sunday. No presume methods are used to raise a big offering, but the plates are passed giving each person an opportunity to contribute whatever amount he wishes.

There will be a service tonight at 7:30. The Saturday night services are brief, but have been well attended throughout. Ray Harris will lead in a stirring song service.

Sunday is the closing day. Three services are scheduled. The church is cooperating with hold their Sunday school sessions and a brief worship period and will then assemble at the tabernacle for a service which will open at 11:15. Doors will not be open till 11:05 in fairness to those who attend Sunday school and church services at the various churches. Rev. Cantrell will preach upon "How to Drive Old Gloom Away."

There will be an afternoon service as usual at 2:30. It will be a mass meeting for everybody. The last service will begin at 7:00 with a great song service led by Ray Harris and the great union choir.

The campaign began on Easter morning and has continued through eight weeks. The large and continuous attendance has been a matinee throughout the city. The last week has been best of all. Without contradiction, it is the greatest religious awakening witnessed since the days of the Billy Sunday campaign, twenty-seven years ago.

Some of the achievements as tabulated by Rev. W. W. Marshall, chairman of the campaign committee are as follows: Aggregate grand total attendance, 113 meetings, 110,000. Meetings held to date as follows: At the tabernacle, 56; Young Peoples Conference at Christian church, 35; children's at tabernacle, 18; business women's banquets, 4. Total 113. There have been 649 paid through the Upper Room for Prayer and Consecration and 185 conversions. A total of approximately $2900 has been raised and expended for expenses of the campaign.

Following is a brief extract from last night's discourse:

"Some people think the greatest force in the world is electricity. Others think that wind or water display greater power. But I am talking tonight about the greatest power, spiritual, or material. And that greatest power is love. This is the power behind everything. Love is back of all creation. It is back of our salvation. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Relief in Satan Not Essential

"The only test God makes of us to be the beneficiaries of his great love, is belief in his Son, Jesus Christ. He is the only Saviour."

"Some people do not believe there is a devil. Some good people say that. Yes, some folks that are going to heaven doubt that there is a personal devil. It doesn't matter what you believe about the devil, so long as you obey God. He hasn't made your faith in Satan a condition of Salvation. The essential thing is to believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God. He is your Saviour. Obey Him!"

"You don't believe there is a devil? I can prove to you in five minutes that there is one. The reason you will play the game. The reason you do not believe in a devil is that you have never tried to do anything for God. Nobody who has started out to do God's work doubts that there is a devil. He knows there is one. Suppose I should slip up on you while you were asleep and bind your arms and feet, then wake you up and say, 'His you are bound and bound and foot!' You open your old eyes and look up into my face and say, 'No I am not bound.' But I say, 'Just try to get loose and you will see.' Same thing if I should lock you in a barred room and then holler at you over the transom telling you that you are a prisoner. You could stand there and argue with me all day, but

AWARDS IN HIGH SCHOOL MADE AT FRIDAY'S MEET

Honor Students In Agriculture, Commerce, Speaking Rewarded

By Don Hilliker

At Friday's high school assembly the commercial, agricultural and public speaking groups received awards for the work accomplished during the school year.

Commercial letters went to Gladys Ortigieson, Dorothy Kerr, Phyllis Schrieber, Retta Keithley, Margaret Strock, Lenore Switzer, Eleanor Pittman and Jane Earl. Dorothy Kerr, Retta Keithley, Gladys Ortigieson and Eleanor Pittman received pins. Emblematic of the Illinois champion 70-word shorthand team a beautiful trophy was given to the school.

Prof. J. N. Weiss was in charge of the agricultural part of the program. He awarded ribbons won in the Rock River Farms contest to Clifford Jacobs, sixth; Byron Weidman, seventh; Wilbur Gerdes, ninth. Letters were taken by Melvin Fisel, Elton Williams, Robert Straw and Edward Brauer.

Anne Davies, Jack Habecker, Graydon Moll, Louise Warner, Stanley Biggart, Lawrence Leydig, Arlene Reis, Harold Goeke, Bradley Moll, Tom Mosher, Paul Peterson and William Smith won public speaking D's. Mr. Frazier made the presentation.

The DO-X, however, was not expected to make half as fast time as a smaller, swifter plane of Mrs. Putnam.

The DO-X had 14 persons aboard, including a woman, Fraulein Antonia Strassman. The plane took off from New York early Thursday morning after a winter spent in reconditioning her after a leisurely flight across the South Atlantic from Switzerland.

Beth Putnam's plane and the DO-X were favored with a southwest wind when they took off, and weather predictions across the Atlantic were most favorable.

could "from the unholy alliance of which he is a part." Though asserting his own indifference to "buffoonery and clowning," he added that he had to condemn "an endeavor to embarrass without the slightest sense of sensibility—I was about to say decency."

Long had previously been asked to stop by Senator Ashurst (D, Ariz.) one of the tariff group, for fear he would do more harm than good.

Still After Glover.

An amendment to the Treasury-Postoffice appropriation bill, eliminating the salary of W. Irving Glover, Second Asst. Postmaster General, was introduced in the Senate today by Senator King (D, Utah).

In a brief statement, King referred to remarks attributed to Glover at a recent convention of Missouri postmasters at St. Louis, which were assailed recently on the floor of the House and Senate.

Glover, whom King did not name, referring to him only as "the Second Assistant Postmaster General," told the Missouri postmasters in substance, King said, "to actively engage in supporting President Hoover."

In effect, King continued, "he advised them if they did not do so, he would be in Washington in a few days and would be glad to receive their resignation."

Glover has denied he told the postmasters to work for reelection of President Hoover, saying he meant his speech as one for support of the President in his reconstruction program.

Assa's Pork Barrel.

Secretary Mills said today he could not approve the $2,300,000 relief program advanced yesterday by the Democratic committee of the Senate specializing on that problem, but he refrained from indicating just what portions to which the administration objects.

While not assuming to speak for the President on the proposal announced yesterday by the special Senate Democratic committee, Mills said:

"I will say that there is no great amount of enthusiasm for an unbalanced budget and a pork barrel plan at the Treasury Department."

AND BE A FRIEND TO MAN

THERE are hermit souls that live withdrawn
In the place of their self-content.
There are souls like stars,
well apart.
In a fellowless firmament:
There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths
Where highways never run—
But let me live by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Delightful Spring Luncheon Friday

Mrs. C. H. Bokhof, Mrs. Warren
C. Durkes and Miss Grace Steele delightfully entertained thirty ladies at luncheon Friday in honor of Mrs. Lynnette Vanderwort, hostess of the Blue Triangle club of Oakland, Cal., and Miss Koster who are guests of Mrs. P. O.
Lowden of Sinnissippi Farm. Other out of town guests were Mrs.
Warner Wood, Charlottesville, Va.;
Mrs. Arlene S. Hyde, Chicago;
Mrs. P. O. Lowden and Mrs. L. M.
Gentry, Oregon; Mrs. Ann Doane, of Burlington, Ia., who is also a guest at the Lowden estate; and Mrs. Charles E. Walgreen, of Chicago. Mrs. Vanderwort, of Oakland, Cal., is a cousin of Mrs. Alfred DeCelle of Dixon.
The luncheon was beautifully appointed and there was a profusion of lovely spring flowers, tulips, lilies, roses, etc. Afterward an enjoyable drive was taken around Dixon and vicinity visiting many lovely estates and gardens which are now in their full beauty.

Modish Women Have the Blues

There's no denying the popularity of blue this spring. At a lunch-ette at a smart New York hotel every single woman wore blue. You get any effect you want with it, so no wonder women like it. Mrs.
Paul Whitman, with her dark auburn hair, and Mrs. William Seaman with her honey-colored tresses, sat side by side. These two former movie favorites achieved very different results with blue. Mrs.
Whitman wore a smart dressmaker suit of navy wool, with three-quarter bell-shaped sleeves, a white silk blouse with a "little blue" collar, and a stunning chic little hat of blue cellophane straw, with nose veil. Mrs. Seaman was quietly distinguished in her dark blue crepe Romaine afternoon dress, with monk-like neckline terminating in a deep shoulder cape and a one-side blue straw beret that showed her lovely hair to advantage.

PICTURES IN ILLINOIS CENTRAL MAGAZINE

Readers of this month's Illinois Central magazine here were pleasantly surprised when they turned to page 11 of the publication and found the picture of two Amboy girls, Helen and Betty Hager.
They were accorded this recognition by the magazine editor for the part they took on an Illinois Central program in Freeport March 29.
Accompanied by Cecil Sawyer and his banjo, the two Amboy girls entertained with several popular songs.

PRAIRIEVILLE SOCIAL CIRCLE MEET WEDNESDAY numbers.)

John Becker, Melvin Jennings and Harold Reed have had perfect attendance for the past two years.
Leland Myers, Marion Reaver, Kenneth Manon, Ruth Manon, and Alverda Long have had perfect attendance this past year. Alverda Long attended the Talbot school before entering Prairieville school this year.

The graduates were Frances Rutt,
Helen Miller, Leland Myers, Fay Book, Ivy Akridge.
At the conclusion of the program the teachers express their appreciation to the community for the hearty cooperation all had given them during this year.

H. Jennings of the school board, expressing the sentiment of the community, complimented Miss Clara McCune, music supervisor,
Mrs. Edna Pine, principal, and Miss Frances Pine, primary teacher, on the splendid program they had prepared—an evidence of their efficiency. He said that he hoped, with these teachers working so congenially, next year would be even more successful.

Closing Brierton School for Term

The Brierton school closed a very successful term Monday, May 16, with a picnic on the school grounds.

A bountiful picnic dinner, including ice cream and lemonade was served at noon to about sixty-five parents, friends and pupils.

After dinner about 22 members of the G. A. R. and three Civil War Veterans, Comrade Johnson,
Comrade Coltrin, and Comrade Richardson arrived to enjoy a program given by the pupils of the school, after which Miss Myrtle Brierton, a member of the G. A. R., presented a beautiful silk flag in honor of her father, Emanuel Brierton and Uncle Orin Coltrin to the school which was received by the president of the district, S. J.
Hill.

Then interesting talks were given by the three Civil War Veterans and various members of the G. A.
R.

During the school year twenty-nine pupils were enrolled.

The graduates from the eighth grade this year were: Hazel Levan and Marion Fane.

Those who were neither absent nor tardy during the entire school year were: Betty Hill, Glenn Hill, Robert Hill, Edwin Levan, Leroy
Levan, Hazel Levan, Isabelle Schmidt, Glenn Schmidt, Betty
Fane, Leroy Fane, Raymond Fane, Elwyn Swegle and Sidney Swegle.
The teacher, Miss Marian Hahn, will return to teach the coming year.

COOL NIGHTS MAKE FUR JACKETS POPULAR

Paris —(AP)—Short fur jackets are one of the favorite wraps this season. The cool weather having made lightweight coats uncomfortable, many Parisians are wearing the little fur jackets with their wool frocks.

The newest jacket has a straight square cut ending near the hip-bones. The jacket fitted at the waist and flaring below is rarely seen.

MISS BROWN AND GUESTS HERE FOR WEEK END

Miss Eleanor Brown, daughter of Supt. E. J. Brown of the Borden Milk Co. in Dixon, is home for the week-end. Miss Brown attends the National College of Education at Evanston. Miss Brown was accompanied by three friends, who are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
E. J. Brown for the week-end.
Misses Harriet Greff, Margaret Teft, Eleanor Harms.

WAWOKIYE CLUB TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The Wawokiye club will hold an

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton

©1931 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

Don't take small children on a shopping trip unless you have to.
And don't take them to movies —unless you have to! Don't take them on street cars or into crowds or any place that tires them out and excites them, or in which they run any risks of sickness.

They are not fit for it, they cannot stand it, their nerves go, they get fretful and peevish, and to add to their misery, poor little souls, they get slapped, or jerked by the arm and told they are bad children.

We shall take a child on a shopping trip today. Pretend his name is Sammy and that he is four years old.

Sammy's mother has promised to meet Cousin May and make a day of it. She has a list as long as her arm, of things she wants to price at least, including a dress, a hat and a pair of shoes. Of course Cousin May has a long list too. Perhaps they can get through in time to go to a movie in the afternoon.

Sammy is dressed in his best bib and tucker and all excited about the good time he's going to have.
"Going to town and see all the pretty things," says his mother.

The ride in on the street car promises to be thrilling. He gets up on his knees and looks out of the window at first. But the car fills up and a fat lady demands that he be removed so she can sit down. His mother takes him on her knee. A man in dirty clothes jams up against him and the fat lady pushes. Sammy is tired from the monotony and uselessness of the whole affair and by the time they reach the getting off place he is cross too.

The streets are full of crowds and noise. All the people tower over him like giants, pushing rushing, crowding, stepping on his small toes as though he were not there.

Cousin May is late. They wait inside a revolving door that frightened him dreadfully going through. There is a lot of talk about things he doesn't understand — "sizes and departments" and "patterns" and the mysterious word "reduced". Mother and Cousin May, it seems, have forgotten all about him. They are as happy as birds.

They go up in an elevator. He doesn't know whether to be scared or not, stuffed back in a corner with his eyes on a level with people's knees. But its soon over and he finds himself in a dull place with coats and dresses all about Mother and Cousin May and another lady finally take some

Elks' Ladies' Card Party Successful

The Elks' Ladies' Club entertained with a most successful and enjoyable public card party Friday afternoon. There were guests for thirty-six tables.

Mrs. Grover Hoberg was awarded the favor for high honors; Mrs.
Ed Rosecrans the second favor;
and Mrs. Roy Withers the consolation favor. Mrs. M. E. Potter received the door prize.

Spring flowers in gay bouquets graced the rooms.

Tea was served from an attractively appointed table with decorations in yellow spring flowers, and yellow tapers.

Bethel Missionary Society Elected Officers Thursday

The Women's Missionary Society of Bethel U. E. church met with Mrs. Homer Senneff Thursday afternoon, Miss Lona Beckingham was the assisting hostess.

The meeting opened by singing a hymn and a prayer by Mrs.
Gaul. Miss Beckingham read the Scripture lesson in an interesting manner.

Prayer by Mrs. Rogers followed the scripture reading.

The leaflet, "The Message that was Sent," by Mrs. Joe Jenguenat was ably given.

Mrs. Richard Weyant and Mrs.
Paul Gordon sang "Somebody's Waiting," which was much enjoyed by all.

Mrs. H. L. Drew gave the last two chapters of "A New Invasion of Belgium."

Everyone enjoyed this book, learning how eager the Belgians are to accept Christ as their personal Saviour and how they will give their lives to work and keep sending it on to their natives. A letter was read from the Belgian mission asking that continued prayers be given for the workers and their health that they may be able to continue this wonderful work. This ended the program and the election of officers for the ensuing year then took place as follows:

President—Mrs. J. O. Nelson.

Vice Pres.—Mrs. C. E. Hill.

Recording secretary — Mrs. Carl Hess.

Corresponding secretary — Mrs.
H. L. Drew.

Treasurer — Mrs. LeRoy Gaul.

Pianist — Mrs. Richard Wey-ant.

The social hour which followed was much enjoyed by all and a stroll in the beautiful rock garden. Delicious refreshments were served after which all departed for home. All voting Mrs. Senneff and Miss Beckingham royal entertainers.

Elks May Party For Children

Elks parties for their juniors will be held at the club house on Friday, May 27, the committee in charge, of which Mrs. Robert Warner is chairman, announced today. Children between the ages of 2 and 6 will be guests from 3 to 5 P. M., while those between the ages of 6 and 12 will be entertained between 7:30 and 10.

As Retiring President Of Group, Mrs. G. P. Powell Is Honored

The Rock River Valley group meeting at Walnut was a very fine meeting. The attendance was the largest of any held in the conference this spring according to the conference president, Mrs. Bagge of DeKalb. The new officers elected were:

President — Mrs. Dennison of Erie; second vice president, Mrs.
Leslie Chapin of Tampico; and the corresponding secretary to be selected. Mrs. G. P. Powell of Dixon the retiring president, has served three years, and has given unstintingly of her time and labor. She became associated with the work in its infancy and deserves much credit for the growth and activity of the organization. Mrs. Powell was given a vote of thanks for her services and was given a beautiful bouquet of flowers at the close of the meeting.

Graduate as Nurses From Loyola U.

On Wednesday, June 8th, a number of Dixon girls, Misses Evelyn Heckman, Mary L. Bales, Gertrude
E. Wilhelm and Mildred L. Fane, will graduate from the St. Anne School of Nursing of Loyola University in Chicago.

Mrs. Willard Thompson delighted girls of the Hi-Tri club of the high school Friday morning by singing for them. The Misses Orgiesen also sang for the club.

Hints for Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

WHEN the children come in hungry after school, satisfy their appetites with a piece of bread and butter sprinkled lightly with sugar. The sugar is a wonderful energy food and helps build up resistance to fatigue. This is also an economical snack, the cost of the bread, butter and sugar combined being a fraction of a cent.

Brooms should be dipped in hot soap suds at least once a week. It toughens the bristles and makes them last longer.

fred Leland of Rockford.

Mrs. J. M. Batchelder Hostess at Breakfast

Mrs. J. M. Batchelder of East Second street entertained with a charming breakfast this morning.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. T. E.
Cassady of Barrington, Ill., who is a guest of Mrs. H. U. Bardwell and Mrs. A. S. Hyde of Chicago and Mrs. Warner Wood of Charlottesville, Va., guests at the home of Mrs. Eustace Shaw.

ENJOYED PICNIC SUPPER AT GREEN SANDSTONE

Dr. and Mrs. Z. W. Moss, Dr.
Grover Moss, Mrs. and Mrs. W. A.
Schuler, Mrs. H. U. Bardwell and her guest, Mrs. T. E. Cassady of Barrington, Ill., motored to Grand Detour early last evening and then enjoyed a boat trip down Rock River to Green Sandstone Rock where they enjoyed a picnic supper.

PALMYRA MUTUAL AID TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The Palmyra Mutual Aid Society will hold an all day meeting with Mrs. Clara Shawyer, 310 Fifth St.

On Tuesday evening, May 17th, the members of the T. N. E. A. bridge club motored to Walnut where they were pleasantly entertained by Miss Helen McGonigle at her home. The favor for high score at bridge was awarded to Miss McGonigle. Miss Edna Moss-holder received the consolation favor.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her mother, after which the minutes of two previous meetings were given.

At a late hour all members departed for Dixon after enjoying the pleasant trip to Walnut, and the happy evening spent at the McGonigle home.

Forgotten Heroes

By Elmo Scott Watson

"The Robert Morris of the West"

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK has a place in our school histories, even though the United States allowed the conqueror of the Old Northwest to die in poverty and neglect and did not pay the full honors due his memory until 150 years later. But where is there any monument erected to the memory of Oliver Pollock or anything else to remind us of our great debt to him?

Pollock was an Irishman who emigrated to America as a youth, lived for a time in Carlisle, Pa., then in Havana, Cuba, and finally in New Orleans. During these years he had become a successful merchant and banker, a wholly self-made man.
Soon after the outbreak of the Revolution he was made commercial agent for Virginia by Gov. Patrick Henry.

When George Rogers Clark planned his ambitious project for the conquest of the British posts in the Illinois country, it was Pollock who bought with his own money the powder and supplies which Clark needed and shipped them up the Mississippi and Ohio rivers to Pittsburgh.

Altogether Pollock advanced more than $300,000 to the patriot cause, mostly on his own notes. After the war was over he sought in vain for a repayment of these debts. Believing that he might make enough money in Cuba to discharge his debts he went there. But his New Orleans creditors gave him no rest and they succeeded in having him thrown into jail in Havana. His friend, the former Governor Galvez of Louisiana, secured his release and as a prisoner on parole he was allowed to go to Philadelphia to press his claims against the UNEXPECTED PRAISE.

Praise for President Hoover from the Hon. Jouette Shouse, executive chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was hardly to be expected. And yet it has come. In a speech at Jacksonville, Florida, Mr. Shouse paid handsome tribute to Speaker Garner in the course of which he said:

"With a majority of only five or six, through the force of his personality, through the qualities of his mind and his heart, through the precision of his judgment, he has been able to put through in a time of stress and trial the most remarkable program of constructive legislation that was ever enacted within the same period."

"The most remarkable program of constructive legislation that was ever enacted within the same period."

True. Most true! But whose program was it? It was not Mr. Garner's. It was not the program of the Democratic side of the House.

It was President Hoover's program! The German moratorium; the increase of capital in the Federal Farm Loan Banks; the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; the broadening of the credit base of the Reserve Bank System.

There is the program which Mr. Shouse justly declares to be the "most remarkable program of constructive legislation that was ever enacted within the same period." And every item in it is President Hoover's.

To be sure it could not have been enacted without the support of Speaker Garner and the Democratic majority in the House, and nobody would withhold the credit that is due them.

But could they have done anything else? They had no program of their own. Would they have dared go before the country with a record of opposing the only constructive program that was offered.

The answer to the question is found in the reaction of the country to Speaker Garner's threat to cease further cooperation with Republicans in enacting relief legislation unless the Republicans quit praising the President. That is to say, unless the Speaker and his party can be given the credit for saving the country it shall not be saved! Is it any wonder that the press of the country meets such a threat as that with the rebuke it deserves. Is it any wonder that the friends of the Speaker, amazed at his statement, are hinting that he was tricked into making it by a Democratic press agent who prefers another Democrat for President and deliberately plotted to clip Mr. Garner's wings?

But whatever be the plots and counter plots, there stands the unqualified endorsement of the President's program by the Democratic spokesman, as "The most remarkable program of constructive legislation that was ever enacted within the same period."

The Republicans are willing to let it stand at that.

THE BELL COUNTY ATTITUDE.

County Attorney Walter R. Smith of Bell county, Kentucky, unwittingly did the nation a service the other day in his letter to Arthur Garfield Hayes of the Civil Liberties Union. Declaring that the Union was Communist, Mr. Smith remarked that Bell county authorities don't believe that "any such organization or any group of persons representing it have any constitutional rights in Bell county that any person is bound to respect."

It was a public service to express so baldly and bluntly a doctrine that finds fairly wide acceptance in many parts of the country today; the doctrine that free speech is guaranteed only to those who will talk the way the authorities want them to, and that the guarantee can be revoked by any office-holder at his own discretion.

It is an un-American a doctrine as could possibly be imagined. We are indebted to Mr. Smith for bringing it out into the open and expressing it in a way that enables friends of liberty to grapple with it.

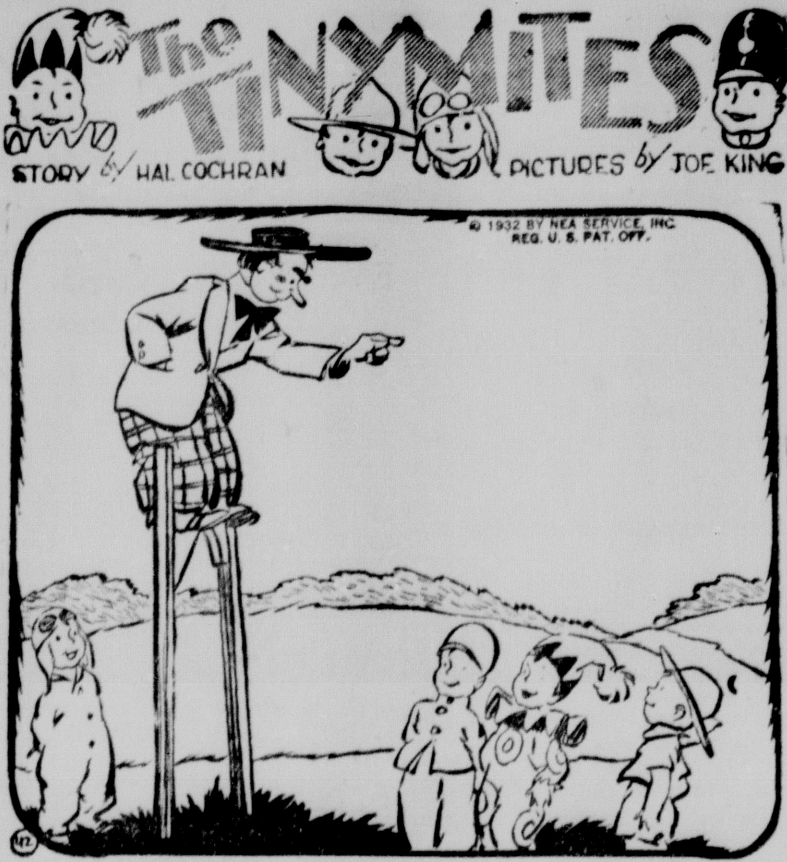

BRAINY CHILDREN.

The exceptionally brainy child is better-looking than other children and tends to be a good deal taller, stronger and heavier.

This is the conclusion reached by a survey made at Columbia University recently, where some 56 gifted youngsters were painstakingly examined.

Doubtless the Columbia experts could produce statistics to buttress their claim. But it is amazingly easy to think of famous men who must have been striking exceptions. There were, for instance, Steinmetz, the crippled dwarf; Lincoln, one of the ugliest men who ever lived; Stonewall Jackson, awkward, clumsy and almost grotesque; Roosevelt, sickly and puny; Napoleon, far below normal height; Lenin, thin and wizened—but why go on? The list could be a long one. The rule can hardly be an iron-clad one.

As the physician to the president of our great nation, I know President Hoover to be physically strong and powerful and alert mentally, because he keeps himself trained daily.—Captain Joel T. Boone, Medical Corps, U. S. Navy, and physician to the White House.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

When once the Tinies reached outdoors they heard more of the play man's snore. "He sure was tired," said wee Scouty. "We had best leave him alone."

"He says there's nothing more to see around this place. It seems to me that we'd best move along again and travel on our own."

"I guess you are right," said Windy. "I just wish I had a chance to fly around up in the air again, bua, shucks, I have no plane."

"The one he let me use before is gone, so it is here no more. Aw, what is the use of wishing, when the wishing is all in vain?" They sat down on the ground a little while. Then Coppy jumped up, with a smile. "We're funny little fellows," he loudly exclaimed. "Here we all sit!

"Why not start strolling over the land? The road is nice; the weather is grand. I feel that I could walk for miles, 'cause I am not tired a bit."

Then Duncy opened up his eyes and snapped, "Say do you realize that maybe someone else is tired? I want to take a snooze."

"We have no special place in mind to go, where strange things we might find. I think it's best to loaf right here. We've lots of time to lose."

The others, in real teasing tones cried, "Listen to old lazy bones. This time you cannot have your wish. A new spot we will find."

Then up they jumped to start their long hike. "Come on," said Coppy, "if you like." It wasn't very long till Duncy trailed along behind.

All of a sudden they all spied a funny still man. Windy cried, "Hello, there, tall slim fellow. Tell us, where are you now bound for this day?"

"Oh, don't mind me," the still man said. "But just keep walking straight ahead. You will shortly reach a house where there are thrilling things in store."

The Tinies arrive at a strange house in the next story.)

PSYCHIC PAINS

Psychic pains, or, as they are more precisely termed, psychalgias, are manifestations of a hysterical type of reaction on the part of the individual toward undesirable circumstances.

Expressed more simply, psychalgias are complaints of pain felt in various parts of the body which have behind them no organic cause but rather the individual's inadequate reaction to emotional or psychologic disturbances.

Because of the fact that the psychalgias can imitate organic disease, they represent an important problem to the physician.

The psychalgias many resemble closely the symptoms of appendicitis, ovarian disease, gall-bladder disease, arthritis or joint disease, and various other specific pathologic conditions.

The psychalgias are more common among women than among the men.

From a recent study made at the Boston Dispensary it would appear that the foreign populations are more subject to psychalgias than are native-born Americans of American parentage.

In the group studied the Jews were the most numerous, the Italians second and the Irish third. It is not uncommon to find among such patients a history of surgical experience, their complaints having prompted doctors to apply surgical treatment.

Certain of these surgical procedures were of a markedly radical nature, a number including operation for so-called "chronic appendicitis."

Popular knowledge of psychology now leads a number of such patients to premise their recitation of complaints to the physician with the introduction, "Doctor, I know I am of the nervous type," an introduction which is worth much to the physician.

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CATTON

Blistering heat, voracious mosquitoes, frowzy hotels, pompous officials and valuable bananas—these are the chief products of Central America. Or so, at any rate, it seems after reading of Carleton Beals' "Banana Gold."

Mr. Beals went roving through Central America to see what he could see; and he had quite a trip. He found a potentially rich land sunk in poverty, misruled by ignorant and venal politicians—and systematically milked—in many cases—by American industrialists.

It is a land where railroads provide mattresses for bananas and bare floors for human passengers; where a president elect flees in terror on learning of his election; where a hotel guest must choose between roasting with his bedroom window closed, or being eaten by mosquitoes with it open; where mountain villages provide glimpses of Mayan life in almost pre-conquest state, and where drifters from a dozen nations infest cheap, squalid water-front bar rooms.

This provides material for a swell book, and Mr. Beals makes the most of it.

Mr. Beals tells how he struggled through the mountains to interview Sandino. He shows pretty clearly that the man is no bandit, in any sense of the word, and he has some caustic things to say about American imperialism in Central America; Nicaragua, he points out, has gone steadily downhill during two straight decades of American "guidance."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

For the poor shall never cease out of the land; therefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt open thine hand unto thy brother, to the poor, and to thy needy, in thy land. Deuteronomy 15:11.

AIR PATHS of GLORY

WILLIAMS AND YANCEY

By DEXTER TEED

NEA Service Writer

The green and silver plane was ready. "On to Rome," said Yancey. "Let's go," said Williams.

It was dawn on July 9, 1929, at Old Orchard, Me. The Atlantic ocean sent its mists to blur the sunrise. The chill of morning was with them. No crowd crept out at daybreak to cheer the flyers on their way.

Then the plane gathered speed, along the beach and took to the air, slushily, Roger Williams and Stewart Yancey, bold men, were attempting a trans-oceanic flight to a goal that had not been reached from there before—Rome.

While Fuel Lasted

That would be a brave flight. Head winds came with the sun. Unexpectedly, unusually, the blast of air was from the east in an area of prevailing westerlies. That could not stop the Bellanca monoplane "Pathfinder," with Williams at the controls and Yancey the navigator.

All day is soared along, superbly. Not a flutter of trouble, no hint of disaster, just a slowing of speed against the wind. Then came the fog, up out of the ocean to make them fly blind. In the next day, with the adverse winds continuing, it was evident their fuel supply would be exhausted before they reached Rome.

It was just past noon when they saw the European coast. That must be Spain. The gas tank was nearly empty. Williams nosed the Bellanca down, circled and landed at Santander, Spain. It was an Atlantic crossing, and they made it a one-stop flight on to Rome anyway, as soon as they filled the gas tank.

In that reception the Italian people gave them was all the exuberant joyous greeting so characteristic of Latin peoples. And they were two more heroes in two continents.

Still Flying

Much air has flowed slip-stream under floors of these men since that day. They are flyers, first, last, in between and always. They fly for fun and they fly for money but they surely fly.

Williams and Yancey were connected with a seaplane line which was to run from Boston to New York. There were complications, the line never started and an investigation was begun during which the flyers were quizzed and their brokers were examined. No criminal charges were brought, but there was considerable of a row. Williams also proposed an airline to Bermuda, but that also was only another project which didn't develop.

Ups and Downs

Flying almost daily for airplane companies and private concerns, Williams has been in and out of the news. Yancey flew to Bermuda, around South America and recently set an unofficial altitude record of 19,200 feet with an autogiro. He expects to make an official record soon. He is living on the west coast.

Marital troubles have beset Williams. Now he is suing his wife, Mrs. Carrie A. Williams, for a divorce. This is only a climax for they have separated before. He was in New York's famous alimony jail because he didn't pay the $50 a week she was awarded. She claimed he had $15,000 a year income . . . but he couldn't pay. Since that day they flew the Atlantic, they haven't had all clear flying. There has been fog and blind flying. But they accept it philosophically. It is all in an airman's lifetime.

He flew the Atlantic in a five year old seaplane; then he went back to his old job as flying instructor. Remember him? Read Monday's Evening Telegraph.

Vets Commandeer Train On Wabash

St. Louis, May 20 —(AP)—A band of 310 war veterans, most of them from Oregon, were quartered in "Cam Boats" in a railroad yard here, today, enroute to Washington, D. C., where they expect to petition Congress for passage of the veterans' bonus bill.

The group arrived in St. Louis at 4:50 A. M., today aboard a Wabash freight train which they commandeered at Council Bluffs, Iowa, after a Trainmaster there, an ex-service man, failed to provide them with extra box cars in which to ride.

W. W. Waters, commander of the group, said the Trainmaster at Council Bluffs had promised to give the veterans some extra box cars in which to ride.

"The train crew started out without us," Waters said, "or at least tried to start. Some of the boys uncoupled the train in several places and finally the trainmaster ordered eight empty cars hooked on for us."

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—When Speaker Garner finds it necessary to relinquish his gavel as the presiding officer of the House of Representatives, his keen eyes search the chamber either for one of two persons.

First he looks for "Bill" Bankhead of Alabama, serious, determined and firm.

If he doesn't see Bankhead, then he looks for Lindsay Carter, Warren of North Carolina, soft-spoken, quick and decisive.

With either of these men in the chair, "Cactus Jack" feels that he can leave the chamber, stay away as long as he pleases, and know that everything is safe.

Of the two, young Mr. Warren, 43 years old, black-haired and good looking, serving his fourth term as a member of the House representing the "stormy district" around Cape Hatteras, is perhaps the most colorful.

RULES WITH IRON HAND—

Garner has called on him to "sit in" on two of the most important pieces of legislation before this session of Congress. He was in the chair when the House voted to create the gigantic Reconstruction Finance corporation. And he held the gavel during consideration of that perhaps most troublesome bill of all—the economy proposal.

Youthful in appearance, Warren rules with an iron hand, has no patience for quibbling and long harangues on parliamentary tactics.

Frequently when a point of order is raised and members prime themselves either to defend or oppose it with long speeches, Warren will break in even while a member is speaking to say firmly:

"The chair is ready to rule."

He rules right then and there, too. And the House's best parliamentarians seldom contest one of his decisions.

HE WINS PRAISE—

Actually, he was given ovations both at the conclusion of the Reconstruction Finance corporation debate and that on the economy bill. No less a parliamentary expert than Clarence Cannon of Missouri, admitted about the best in the House, when the economy bill had been disposed of, provoked cheers on the floor when he said:

"Mr. Speaker, I trust it will not be amiss to refer at this time to the ability and impartiality of Mr. Warren . . . during consideration of the most difficult bill this session."

Warren is one of the wheelhorses of the Democratic organization. They turn to him when there is placating to be done, when some unruly Democrat gets off the reservation, or when there is need of compromise.

His humor, diplomacy and tact have made him a main cog in the organization machinery of the House.

Beauty-Bids for Poster Honor

From the way we see the model situation, it's an 11-to-1 bet that McClelland Barclay, famous artist, will find the subject he wants for his painting of the "typical American girl" cheering her Olympic team on to victory. Vivacity as well as beauty is Barclay's standard of the ideal feminine rooster and he finds everything up to standard at the University of Southern California where he's pictured with the eleven co-eds from whom he'll make his selection. Smart fellow, Barclay. See his pad and pencil!

Here's Helene, Water Queen

Successfully defending her many swimming titles in the recent indoor nationals on the coast, nothing remains now for Helene Madison, above, but a string of exhibitions before she launches her first attack on Olympic splashing records in the 1932 games at Los Angeles. Miss Madison expects to improve her swimming form immeasurably in the exhibition and if she does—well who's going to have a chance with her in the international contests?

Picking The Presidents Of Nation, 1856-1932

(Editor's Note:—Following is the sixth of a series of articles describing highlights of national political conventions and campaigns of the past.)

BY ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

Washington (AP)—Those political prophets who predict democratic victory this year base their forecasts largely, of course, on expected reaction at the polls to the business slump during the Hoover administration.

It has become almost axiomatic that a proper depression presages the loss of the presidency by the party in power during the hard times. Yet William Howard Taft was elected over William Jennings Bryan in 1908 following the "panic of 1907" during the Roosevelt regime.

Taft was Roosevelt's candidate and he won handily at the convention, at which the name of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes first was brought into convention's spotlight.

Princess Alice in Spotlight

Attracting more attention at the convention than even Henry Cabot Lodge, the Roosevelt spokesman, was Alice Roosevelt Longworth. Delegates and their wives jostled for a glimpse of the "White House princess" who wore a dress of black and dull blue in modified directoire style and a hat of black lace with a black aigrette.

There also, ready to lead a stampede for Roosevelt was "the lion of Idaho," Senator William E. Borah. The Democrats nominated Bryan, the mention of whose name at the convention by the blind Senator Gore of Oklahoma started a frenzied tribute which lasted one hour and 27 minutes, breaking all records for convention orations.

Bryan campaigned hard, and even Taft made 418 speeches. Taft was very tired and "unusually cross for him" by the time he was elected.

But Taft did not please Roosevelt, and four years later he booted the Republican convention and formed the Bull Moose party.

Along came "Doctor" Woodrow Wilson, so dubbed by the vigorous Roosevelt to mark him in the mind of the public as a political theorist of a remote professional class. Wilson announced he would discuss only the issues.

Colonel House advised him to let "Roosevelt beat himself by talking too much." Colonel House today is backing another Roosevelt—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

The climax of the 1912 campaign came when "Teddy" Roosevelt was shot by a fanatic while on his way to make a speech at a Milwaukee ball. He went on to give the address.

Wilson's campaign did not bring him the victory he won. Rather it was the Republican split. Wilson, in fact, received fewer votes than had Bryan four years before. But he was given more than enough to seat him securely in the White House, there to direct the nation through eight momentous years of its history.

War raged in Europe, but the United States kept the peace. In 1916 the Democrats shouted: "He kept us out of war." Wilson again was elected the first Democratic president to succeed himself since Andrew Jackson.

Election in Doubt

Today in Supreme Court isolation far removed from campaign strife and clatter sits Chief Justice Hughes no doubt recalling that 1916 campaign. On election day it seemed certain Hughes, the Republican candidate, had won. Reporters who went to see him were told "The President has retired for the night."

But the west was not in. On the third day it became known definitely that Wilson had been re-elected.

Keynote at the Chicago convention which nominated Hughes was hard-core Warren Harding of Ohio. "His face florid, he pounded

Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Minion are spending from Tuesday until Saturday at Columbus, Ohio with Mrs. Minion's parents.

PARIS BOMBED

On the night of May 21, 1918, German aviators made an air raid on Paris.

Bombs were dropped in all parts of the city, causing 13 deaths and millions in property damage. Railroads north and northeast of Paris were also attacked, but the bombs dropped did slight damage.

Russia was experiencing the horrors of war. On this day cholera broke out in Astrakhan and in the Caspian Sea region. This plague, although stopped after a short period, took a large toll of lives.

The War Department received reports that the first of the U. S. field armies had been organized and was in service in France. The total strength of this army was about 200,000 men.

Tax Problems In This State

By M. H. HUNTER

University of Illinois.

27. INHERITANCE TAXES.

The levy of a tax upon the transfer of property at death has been in use since ancient times. Some traces of it can be found as early as 2,000 B. C. A well-defined system existed in Egypt before the Christian era while the Emperor Augustus used this form of tax very early after the birth of Christ.

Through this long development many arguments have been advanced to support the tax on inheritances. Some have looked upon it as a device for the equalization of wealth. Andrew Carnegie held it was a mark of misguided affection for parents to leave great fortunes to their children. To do so deadens talents and energies and results in a less useful life than would otherwise develop. He contended, moreover, that the proper use of great riches was to benefit society from which they had been taken, and if men amassed fortunes without making a proper social return, then the government should make sure of its share by the use of the inheritance tax.

It has frequently been contended that the state should have a part of the property transferred at death since it is only by the grace of the government that any transfer is allowed. There is, moreover, a cost involved in making the transfer for which the government should be reimbursed. One need look no further than the ability to pay principle to justify the tax, since one is more able to pay after the receipt of wealth than before.

Whether justified because it breaks up large fortunes, or merely gives to society its fair share of accumulated wealth, or because it falls in accordance with ability to pay, the inheritance tax is one of the most widely used of all forms of taxes. It is in this country, used by the Federal Government and by forty-five of the states. The states which do not use it are Alabama, Nevada and Florida. In order to attract wealth, Florida, a few years ago, wrote into her constitution that she would never tax incomes nor inheritances. The rates vary greatly from state to state, but are more uniform than formerly since the Federal Government allows a credit for state taxes levied up to 80 per cent of the Federal levy.

NEW CANADA LINE

Toronto—A new passenger and freight air line has been opened between this city and New York. The line is controlled by a Canadian company and makes use of both amphibian and land planes. Planes leave each city twice daily and the trip requires from three and a half to four hours. One stop will be made at Rochester, New York.

Be sure and attend the Waterless Cooker demonstration at W. H. Warren's Hardware Store all day Saturday.

Doctor, 92, Regrets Day He Originated Electric Chair

By NEA Service—

New York—Dr. A. D. Rockwell back in 1888, designed the first electric chair. Today, at 92, the gist in New York, he wishes he hadn't done it.

For hundreds of men have been executed according to the method he evolved and Dr. Rockwell is bitterly opposed to capital punishment.

It was not by choice that he employed his talents for the destruction of criminal life. He was called to the service of a reform-swept state which had voted to electrocute its murderers and then discovered it had no reasonably humane method. Dr. Rockwell was the ranking American authority on electro-therapeutics, so he was commissioned to produce an electric chair. He did so with the advice of Thomas Edison.

He recalls today the almost world-wide cry of protest that followed the first electrocution at Auburn prison in 1890. Dr. Rockwell had not attended. His instructions regarding the placing of the electrodes had been ignored by confused officials, and the job was barbarously bungled.

Thereafter he was present at executions to see that his method was properly employed, and death invariably resulted from the first shock.

"It is the principle of capital punishment that I oppose," declared the aged physician, who is active and in good health. "It is only a measure of vengeance, an admission of the law's futility."

"It is the fault of society if it waits until a man has gone completely mad before it takes a hand in his affairs. Criminals should be put to work for the good of the state, and should be used as subjects for study by criminologists."

UNITED STATES C. OF C. ENDED ITS CONVENTION

Less Meddling In Business By Government Urged By Chamber

San Francisco, May 21—(AP)—American business, pictured as burdened by taxes and harassed by government interference, today offered a diagnosis of economic ills, together with suggested remedies, in resolutions adopted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Henry I. Harriman of Boston was given the duty of directing the curative treatment as he succeeded Silas H. Strawn of Chicago as president.

Adoption of resolutions and election of Harriman concluded the twentieth annual convention of the organization last night.

Resolutions were headed by demands for government economy and removal of interference of restrictive laws.

Prohibition was not touched upon by resolution but a committee was appointed to prepare a referendum on the question to the member organizations.

"Change Loan System"

Repeal of provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Act, under which the Federal Farm Board has bought and sold commodities in so-called stabilization activities, was demanded. Adjustment of the Federal Farm Loan system, "to permit loans in harmony with credit conditions in areas served," was urged.

Generous treatment of injured war veterans was approved, but the Chamber frowned on laws "under which men suffering no disability from war service are recipients of benefits costing many millions of dollars annually."

Relief "from the present intolerable burden of taxation" was demanded and all the government branches were called upon to balance their budgets.

To Aid Railroads

Concerning railroads the Chamber condemned "unregulated competition by stages, trucks and other forms of transportation, and urged Congress to repeal retroactively the 'recapture' provision of the transportation act of 1920" under which part of "excess" earnings were ordered paid to the government.

Other resolutions urged action on railroad consolidation; condemned government competition with steamship companies; recommended an international silver conference, termed amendment of anti-trust laws necessary "for the national welfare" urged freeing retail merchandising from discriminatory laws, regulation of fee-charging employment agencies, consideration of employees' retirement annuities and the repealing of laws regarding maintenance of existing limitations on wages for public work.

ROOSEVELT AND FRANCE WINNERS IN OREGON VOTE

Third Of Republican Voters Wrote In Hoover's Name

Portland, Ore., May 21—(AP)—Joseph I. France of Maryland, Republican, and Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, a Democrat, held apparently safe leads today in the Oregon presidential preference primary.

On returns from 537 of 1,782 precincts in yesterday's balloting, France led President Hoover 10,423 to 5,563. France's name was the only one appearing on the Republican ballot and those who voted for the President wrote in his name.

From 477 precincts, the New York Governor received 7,240 votes to 2,890 for Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma. Murray was Roosevelt's only listed opponent. The name of Alfred E. Smith, party candidate of 1928, was written in only 109 times.

The successful candidates will control Oregon's delegates at the National Conventions until they personally release them or all hope of victory is abandoned. The state has 13 Republican and 10 Democratic votes.

Congressman W. C. Hawley was in a bitter fight for renomination in the First District, with James W. Mott, State Corporation Commissioner. With 150 precincts out, Hawley has 5,992 votes and Mott, 5,947. Two other candidates were far behind.

BUCKEYES ARE AT THRESHOLD OF TRACK TITLE

Big Ten Championships Will Be Determined This Afternoon

Evanston, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Ohio State University today stood at the threshold of a first Western Conference track and field championship, with 16 qualifying places already marked up on the Buckeye ticket.

Heading Ohio into a commanding position yesterday were Don Bennett and Jess Paszke, who qualified in both dashes; Jack Keller, who planted himself in both hurdle events; and Homer Smith, who led the qualifiers in the javelin. Michigan, one of the favorites, and Indiana, winner of the indoor title, were left with a real task to overcome that Buckeye edge.

Michigan, however, displayed all-around strength and made a sensational showing in the quarter-mile. Four Michigan athletes completed today for their own heats, with Charles de Baker marking up the best time, 49.8. The Wolverines expected to pick up points in the mile and two-mile today, and appeared to be the team to outpoint Ohio if anyone could.

Saling in Comeback

George Saling, Iowa, making a comeback after a year out of competition, performed sensationally in the hurdles and ranked as an even choice in both the quarter-mile and the mile. He won his trial heat in the mile, a tenth of a second away from the accepted world record, and did the mile in 23.5. He looked good enough to defeat Keller, and such a turn of events would be hard on Buckeye hopes.

Michigan qualified for 15 places in the finals, followed by Iowa, and Illinois with 12 each. Minnesota had 11, Wisconsin 7, Purdue 5, and Chicago and Northwestern trailed with 2 each.

Finals of the battle for the title, win last year by Wisconsin, were scheduled for this afternoon.

TENNIS TOURNEY

Evanston, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Charles Dennison of Ohio State, today has his second chance to win the Western Conference tennis singles title, but must beat Ed Lejeck of Illinois, to do it.

Dennison, who bowed to Scott Rexinger of Chicago in the finals last year, yesterday reached the final round of the 1932 championships in easy fashion, defeating Erler of Wisconsin, 6-2, 6-2, and Ryan of Michigan, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2. Lejeck had a more difficult task, but overcame Stetin of Minnesota, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, and Britz, another Gopher, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Lejeck, paired with Hands, also was in the final of the doubles, against Britz and Sherer of Minnesota. The Illinois pair defeated Staggs and Davidson in the most bitterly fought match of the tournament, 6-3, 4-6, 4-6, 9-7, 6-4, to reach the final, while the Gophers rallied to defeat Silverman and Erler of Wisconsin, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1.

GOLF TOURNEY

Minneapolis, May 21—(AP)—Minnesota and Michigan held the commanding positions for title honors as the second and final 36-hole round of the Western Conference golf tournament began at the University of Minnesota course today.

The Gophers and Wolverines led in team totals and had two men apiece in the first five leaders in the individual competition.

Captain Earl Larson and Edgar Boistead, both of Minnesota, topped the 32 entrants at the end of yesterday's 36 holes of medal play, scoring 151. John Fischer, Michigan, was third, with 152; James Reston, Illinois, an early favorite, was fourth with 155, and Ed Dayton, Michigan, had 156.

Illinois, defending team champion, was fourth in the standings. The score for the first 36 holes gave Michigan 624; Minnesota 625; Northwestern 644; Illinois 650; Ohio State 655; Chicago 664; Wisconsin 673, and Iowa 694.

Fargo Express Is Too Much For Bat

Chicago, May 21—(AP)—Bat Battalino ought to be about ready to admit that Billy Petrolle can lick him.

The former world champion of the featherweights, fortified with rare courage, stood in there in the Chicago Stadium ring last night and traded slugs with the old Fargo Express, and even knocked him down for a count of nine in the first round.

But after it was all over, Billy Petrolle had won a ten round decision. And except for the first and tenth rounds, Battalino took a beating.

In the middle of the first round a whistling left hook landed squarely on Petrolle's chin and he went down to remain as long as he dared. But at the end of the round, he was popping the Hartford youth with vicious lefts to the body and rights to the head, and he kept right on doing it until Battalino made a last, gallant effort to turn defeat into victory.

They were about even until the sixth, but after that session, Petrolle clearly was the master.

HOOVER STARTS EXTENSION FOR NEW YORK PLAN

Will Apply Scheme To Each Of Federal Reserve Districts

Washington, May 21—(AP)—President Hoover has started a country-wide movement to get hesitant bankers, industrialists, and others together to start crediting flowing once more into constructive enterprise.

The program is to apply the New York banker-businessman committee plan to each Federal Reserve District. The Governors of the Reserve Banks have been asked to step out in organizing the groups.

When all are formed it is Mr. Hoover's intention to call the chairman to Washington so as to co-ordinate the entire program "on a national basis."

The situation now existing is that the Federal Reserve Board has increased enormously the cash and credit available to individual banks for business expansion, but little or none of this invigorating money stream has moved beyond the bank vaults. Either business men and manufacturers are unwilling to incur new obligations until future prospects are more definite or the banks are more anxious to keep a big reserve than to extend credit.

The program launched in New York by a committee headed by Owen D. Young, is to find ways and means of getting borrowers and lenders together. It is believed that once credit flow is established it may be depended upon to continue largely on its own momentum.

President Hoover had an active part in the formation of the New York group, sending Secretary Mills to bring the leaders together.

The President's pleasure at the initial result of this effort, and his desire for its nation-wide application, were made known by him yesterday at a press conference.

OAK PARK HIGH LEADS IN STATE ATHLETIC MEET

Defending Champions Qualified Seven Men Yesterday

BULLETIN
Memorial Stadium, Champaign, May 21—(AP)—Randel Herman, Oak Park high school star, sprinted to a new national and state prep 100 yard dash record in the finals of the Illinois interscholastic meet here today.

Herman broke the tape only a fraction of a second ahead of Robert Grier of Glenbard, Glen Ellyn, Lehman, Pontiac, Nichols, Oak Park and Quinlan, New Trier, ran next.

His time was 9.7, a tenth of a second faster than that made by Ralph Metcalfe of Tilden, Chicago, in 1930. Metcalfe's mark had established both the state and the national records.

Other marks continued to fall as the high school athletes burned up the cinders. Herman came back with a second record in the 220, 21.2 seconds. Longman of Mt. Morris showed his heels to the milers in 4:25.6, clipping 7.7 seconds from the old mark held by McElwee of Champaign.

Oak Park high school had virtually clinched the championship for the third straight year after the first five events had been run off. Score at this time was: Oak Park 22; Glenbard, (Glen Ellyn) 7; Mt. Morris 5; Senn (Chicago) 5; Joliet 5; Johnston City, Libertyville 4 each.

One mile run—Won by Longman, Mt. Morris; Garrett, Johnson City, second; Tubbs, Shelbyville, third; Quinney, Swaney, fourth; Savage, Mt. Vernon fifth. Time 4:25.6. (New Illinois interscholastic record.)

220 yard dash won by Herman, Oak Park; Nichols, Oak Park, second; Grieve, Glenbard (Glen Ellyn), third; Parker, Collinsville, fourth; Quinlan, New Trier, fifth. Time :21.2. (New Illinois interscholastic record.)

120 yards high hurdles—Won by Pollard, Senn (Chicago) Graham, Oak Park, second; Meagher, Depeue, third; Duncan, Oak Park, fourth; Henderson, Fairbury, fifth. Time :15.1. (New record of 15 seconds made by Pollard, Senn, in preliminaries.)

Shot put—won by Stephen, Joliet; Burnett, Libertyville, second; Freestone, Atlanta, third; Zander, Rantoul, fourth; Behr, Rockford, fifth. Distance 51 feet 11.5 inches. (New Illinois interscholastic record, made in preliminaries Friday.)

440 yard dash—won by Miller, Maine (Desplaines); Boyer, Paris, second; Range, Elgin, third; Heg, Evanston, fourth; Tripp, West Frankfort, fifth. Time 48.8 seconds. (New Illinois interscholastic record.)

Champaign, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Oak Park, champions for the past two years, qualified seven men for the finals of the 38th state interscholastic track and field meet today. Rockford and Glenbard of Glen Ellyn each placed four men in the meet.

Three meet records were broken in the qualifying rounds yesterday. Fred Pollard, Senn high school Negro, covered the 120 yard high hurdles in fifteen seconds flat to equal the national mark held by Welch of Pasadena, Calif., and to break the state mark of 15.6 made by Jens of Wheaton in 1930.

Euclid Boyer, Paris, bettered the mark of 50.3 for the 440 yard dash set by Dick Terwilliger, Urbana, in 1930, by one-tenth of a second. Bob Stephen tossed the shot 51 and 11 1-8 inches to break his own record of 51 1/2 feet set last year. Herb Nichols, Oak Park, equaled the national and state marks of 9.8 in the 100 yard dash.

Athletes representing 95 high schools of the state were qualified for the finals.

TENNIS PLAYERS
Urbana, Ill., May 21—(AP)—Thirty three Illinois high school golfers fought today in 18 holes of medal play for the state championship with Elton Hill of Urbana one of the big contenders.

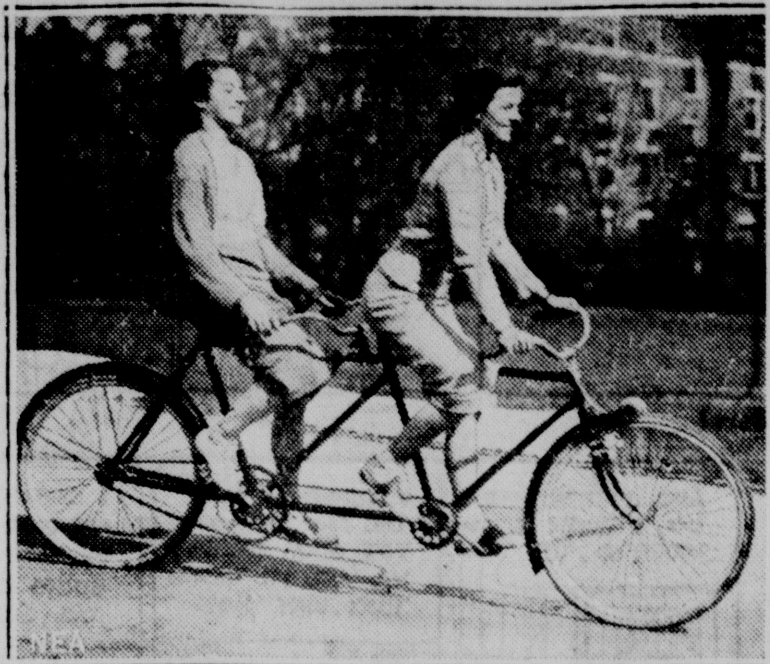

Hill was only two above par with a 74 over the Urbana County Club course in the qualifying round yesterday. Among the other qualifiers were:

Johnson of Bloomington; Schildberg of New Trier; Blenton of Roosevelt; Hobart of Rockford; Habermeyer of East Aurora; Prager of Peoria Manual; Zahn of Roosevelt; Maddox of Springfield; Hodges of Urbana; Pricke of East Aurora; Nagel of East Moline; Jensen of Joliet; Emmerson of Peoria Manual; Socha of Peoria Manual; Smith of Sycamore; Phisell of Elgin; Barbor of Jacksonville; Hoblit of Lincoln; Hodges of Decatur; Peterson of Rock Island; Tribel of Peoria Central; Oglesby of Vandallia; McKinney of Decatur; Hickson of Depue and Roman of East Moline.

HIGH SCHOOL GOLFERS
Urbana, Ill., May 21—(AP)—The finals of the state high school tennis tournament entered the semi-final stage today with only Chicagoans surviving after the quarter final competition yesterday.

Eight teams remained in the doubles, among them: Barron and Phillips of Canton; Lucas and Bommer of West Frankfort; Ench and Freedman of Lake Tech of Chicago; Hoger and Sprague of Joliet; Vanderbeek and Peterson of DeKalb; Miles and Winter of Oak Park; Winters and Mertz of Hyde Park, Chicago, and Burgess and Quayle of Oak Park.

On a Bicycle Built for Two

Just a couple of bicycle belles are these comely Radcliffe College students. They ride their tandem wheel to and from classes—even though it takes twice as much pedaling—in order to save money and gain exercise. Katherine Embree (right) of Tenafly, N. J., thinks it's a good steer, and Miriam Jasspoon (left) of Memphis, Tenn., follows her perfectly.

Hooks and Slides

By William Braucher
As this is being written, your groping essayist is not sure which of two parties ought to be congratulated—Helen Willis Moody, the United States Lawn Tennis Association, or both.

At any rate, Helen has been writing pieces for the paper, since arriving in Europe for her annual foreign campaign, and really they shock us. For they have been signed, "By Helen Willis Moody, Famous American Tennis Star."

To be sure the world is so full of a number of things that I'm sure we should all be as happy as those who waged upon Burgo King to win the Derby and the Preakness, without worrying about journalism from the pens of tennis stars that is foisted upon unsuspecting folk who read newspapers.

BUT THERE'S A RULE!
But here, it seems to me, is an issue that ought to be epoch-making, indeed. For there is a by-law prominently displayed in the jocose code by which the U. S. L. T. A. governs amateur affairs which reads:

"A person may be declared ineligible to compete in tournaments or matches played under the auspices of the association by committing any of the following acts, except with the consent of the executive committee:

"... By using, or sanctioning eligible to compete in tournaments or matches played under the auspices of the association by committing any of the following acts, except with the consent of the executive committee:

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"Serves him right, for trying to steal bananas from the monkeys"

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

OUR NEAREST FIXED STAR, ALPHA CENTAURI, IS ABOUT 25,000,000,000,000 MILES AWAY.

The GIANT ANT-EATER HAS A TONGUE 2 1/2 FEET LONG.

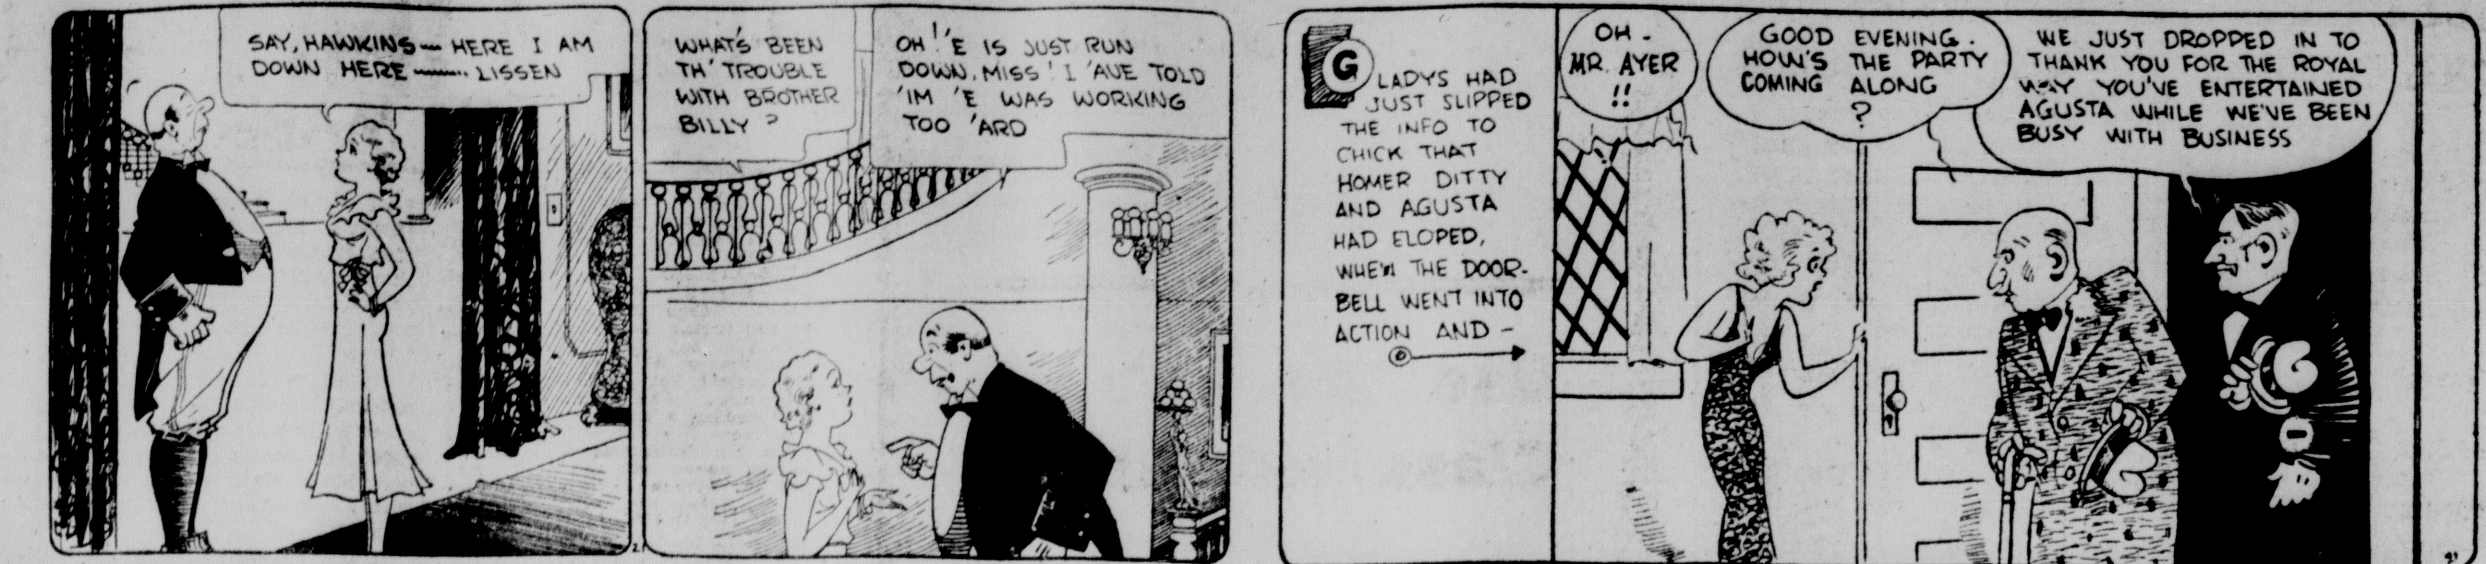

The CURIOUS STROBEGLOW.
THAT MAKES MACHINERY "STAND STILL." ALTHOUGH THIS ELECTRIC FAN IS REVOLVING 4,000 TIMES A MINUTE THE STROBEGLOW MAKES IT APPEAR TO BE STATIONARY. THE LIGHT FLASHES 4,000 TIMES A MINUTE AND CATCHES THE BLADES IN THE SAME POSITION ON EACH REVOLUTION.

An airplane propeller, at full speed, can be examined carefully under the glow of the Strobeglow lamp. Gear teeth intermeshing at the rate of 1600 per second, can be observed as clearly as though they were stationary. An object turning at 1800 revolutions per minute can be observed for a whole year with the light actually turned on but 28 minutes, for each flash lasts only three ten-millionths of a second... but the eye retains the image and makes it seem continuous over the dark instants between flashes. By adjusting the light slightly objects at high speed can be seen in slow motion.

Hoover's Life In White House Has Taken Toll

Editor's note: This is the second of a series of three articles on President Herbert Hoover, outlining the problems he has faced and viewing them in the light of their possible bearing on his political future.

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington (AP)—Washington in truth became the "capital of the world" when President Hoover on that June day of 1931 made his sudden and dramatic proposal for a moratorium on intergovernmental debts and reparations.

The succeeding months were marked by visits of two of Europe's foremost statesmen—Premier Pierre Laval of France and the youthful Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy. And two of America's statesmen—Secretary Henry L. Stimson and Andrew W. Mellon—were dispatched abroad to negotiate with the Germans.

Since 1924 Germany had borrowed some four billions of dollars of which more than two billion was furnished by the United States. In 1931 American citizens had a larger financial stake in Germany than the rest of the world combined.

Early in the summer of 1931 a "flight from the mark" began and panic threatened. To avert this and to protect American investors President Hoover proposed the moratorium as the first of a series of measures to remedy this situation.

When congress met in December President Hoover conveyed in a special message to both houses his views on debts and reparations. He was quick to point out that "... reparations is necessarily a wholly European problem with which we have no relation..." And that he did not approve "in any remote sense of the cancellation of the debts to us."

He hinted, however, that it would be necessary in some cases to make still further adjustments, and accordingly urged congress to revise the commission which negotiated earlier debt settlements and give it authority to act in the "present economic emergency."

Congress not only turned a deaf ear to this proposal, but gave sharp notice to the European governments not to expect a reduction of their debts "in any manner." However, the year's moratorium was approved.

Meanwhile new problems were arising to haunt the President. Great Britain went off the gold standard, Japan had entered Manchuria. The export of American goods had declined sharply. There was an evidence of hoarding of currency in the United States. And there were ugly rumors of the solvency of banks.

Party Leaders Confer. Confidence in general was waning to such an extent that on October 6, 1931, the President issued a call for a conference at the White House of the leaders of both parties.

This conference started moves that eventually resulted in a program designed to mobilize the country's resources for the fight against the business slump.

The Glass-Steagall banking bill was passed with changes in the Federal Reserve law.

Congress provided 125 millions for the federal land bank system. The Reconstruction Finance corporation was set up with an initial operating fund of 500 millions. To these proposals the President added the plan of the home discount banks and a nationwide campaign against hoarding.

An intensive campaign for decreased expenditures in government was put underway.

The cry of "balance the budget" was met by the house by passage of a revenue measure held sufficient for that purpose. After days of the bitterest warfare a proposed manufacturer's sales tax was defeated in the house and special

BEHOLD HERE TODAY

SUSAN CAREY, 20 and beautiful, is secretly in love with BOB DUNBAR, millionaire's son. DE SIRE AKA NOVA, who wants Bob for herself, plans to separate them. She has been engaged to her former employer, ERNEST HEATH, but Heath overheard a conversation between her and Bob and asked her to break the engagement. She told Bob as he was boarding a train for New York and there is a reconciliation. Bob tells his father he is going to marry Susan and the elder Dunbar is furious. The father goes to see Susan and tells her it will ruin Bob's life if she marries him.

CHAPTER XLVI

"THAT'S exactly what I mean," said Mr. Dunbar. The faintest shade of regret tinged his voice. Susan sat silent, her hands locked in her lap. Her mind was in confusion. Yesterday everything had been clear sailing. It had all sounded so simple, so easy. Even Bob's report of his father's anger had had a far-away, unreal aspect. Older people were always troubling themselves about things that really didn't matter. Susan had thought Stocks and bonds, houses and money. What did they count when weighed against her love for Bob?

Bob had agreed with her. They would be married very quietly. He had an offer of a job on a ranch in Montana. Some man he had known at college was experimenting with wheat and there was a little tenant house they could have. Susan had thought of herself simply and joyously as a farmer's wife. It had all seemed quite idyllic. Now this purse-proud old man with his talk of inheritances had come to spoil everything.

She felt a little sick as she listened to him. His voice rambled on, smoothly and persuasively. "I know you wouldn't want to stand in his way—we all go through these puppy love affairs—"

She felt in a daze. Was it true that her love for Bob would bring him only unhappiness and ill fortune? Would he tire of poverty and of her with it? The poison of the older man's cunning barbs infected her heart. Perhaps she and Bob had been fools. Perhaps that life could be so simple and straightforward as they, in their rosy dream, had envisioned it. Through her misery dawned the realization that her father had repeated a question she looked up, her eyes clouded with painful resentment.

"I beg your pardon, I'm afraid I wasn't listening."

He said, "I will make it worth your while if you let him go."

"Oh!" All the pain and wound ed pride of the girl surged to the surface. She stood up proudly and menacingly. She said in a voice that trembled, "I think you'd better go before I say something I'll regret. After all, you are Bob's father."

He was won to reluctant admiration but he could not leave without attempting to justify himself. His carefully moulded sentences flowed on. Susan stared at a point some inches over the man's head, expressionless.

"Don't be afraid," she said bitterly, "I shan't do any harm to your son."

The man, a power in the downtown world of affairs, departed feeling somehow humiliated and routed.

SUSAN fought a battle with herself that morning. Bob was to come at eight and through alternate chills and fevers she tried to make up her mind what to say to him when he arrived. She had explained to Aunt Jessie who had remained singularly unmoved by the news of the girl's change of plan that the caller had been Bob's father. Aunt Jessie had tactfully refrained from asking questions. She had seemed gentler since her illness.

Aunt Jessie was looking forward to making a long visit to her sister who lived in southern Illinois.

"I'm going for a walk," Susan told her abruptly a few minutes later. Scarcely conscious of the direction she was taking, she boarded a street car headed for the business district. She must do something. She must keep active. She stopped at a drug store telephone booth and called Ray Flannery.

"Well, stranger, where have you been 'peeping yourself'?" Ray demanded. "I've missed you like the dick."

"Can you have lunch with me?" Susan asked. Ray agreed with enthusiasm. Half an hour later, over the square, white-topped table in a shop Ray stared at Susan with a frank interest.

"Get into money or something?" she asked. Ray tried to explain. Her aunt had been ill, she said vaguely, and she had been needed at home. Ray seemed satisfied with this answer.

"Say, the new girl in Heath's office sure is a lemon," Ray continued. "She looks like something the cat dragged in."

Susan smiled. She had heard about Miss Smith from Jack Warner but Ray's description seemed unduly harsh.

"The old man's gone away, I bear," Ray rambled on. "What do you know about that?" Susan flushed. "He was talking about making a trip before I left," she said evasively.

"I don't know. I always kind of thought he was buzzing around you," said Ray.

SUSAN changed the subject but not for long because inevitably with Ray the talk turned to men and romances. Ray was never interested in abstracts. After a little sparring Susan burst out with the question closest to her heart.

"What do you think—I mean what would you do if you were going to marry a person and someone told you you'd be spoiling his life by doing it?" she floundered.

Ray's shrewd eyes searched her face. "What are you talking about? I don't get you."

Susan began to outline little squares and triangles on the table's gleaming surface with her spoon. "It's this way," she said. "I'm engaged—it's a secret and you mustn't tell anyone—to a boy whose family is frightfully rich. His father is going to cut him off with out a cent if he insists on marrying me."

Ray gasped. "It's just like in the movies!" she exclaimed.

Susan sat on, eager to unload herself. "Well, that was all right. He told it over and it didn't care and I certainly don't. But today I'm a fa or came t see me and said I'd be ruin' his son's whole life if I married him." Her voice broke. "I don't know. It's a rotten story. I don't know what to do."

"You're willing to take him with out the money?" asked Ray.

"Willin'!" Susan was frankly aghast. "I was told when he told me it was going to be that way. I thought 'gave us a better chance to make a go of it. But now I'm not certain. He's always been rich and maybe he'd be lost without all the things he's been used to. Maybe he'd blame me for being the cause of his breaking away from his family and friends. I couldn't stand that," she finished wearily.

Ray planted her two small fists on the table. "You listen to me!" she said. "Don't be a fool!"

"I want to do what's right," Susan insisted.

RAYS doll face with its fringed, mascaraed lashes and its fluff of yellow curling hair looked un believably childlike. The words which issued from those painted lips, however, were unmistakably adult.

"Don't do as I did," Ray reminded her bitterly. "Don't let your one chance of happiness go and be sorry for it." She was thinking of Sky Webb, of course, and the rich girl he'd married.

"You know how I used to rave," Ray continued. "All about an apartment on the drive and a milk coat and what-not. That," Ray told her, "was all the bunk. I was kidding myself. We'd always been poor, Mamma and I, and I said to myself I was tired of it. When Sky asked me to run off with him I gave him a lot of smart talk about what I had to have before I'd settle down. He took it seriously, and the first thing I knew he'd gone off and teamed up with that other girl."

Susan had been listening earnestly. When Ray finished and lapsed into a fit of musing Susan said, "Of course our problems aren't at all the same. I wouldn't mind being poor and Bob knows it. What I want to be sure of is what will make him happy."

Ray snorted. "I'm telling you don't be like that! Take your chance and see what comes. You don't want to be an old maid all your life, do you?"

The two girls so absurdly young, both sobored at the thought. "Of course you don't," Ray went on. "Then grab this boy—I don't know who he is but he must be a k. If you like him—before something happens. We're all such fools," said Ray wistfully. "Life is so short we have to take chances. That's the only way to find out what it's all about."

She gathered up her gloves. Ray sighed. "When this is a warm day for March!" She was trying to divert the conversation into livelier channels. "Doesn't it make you want to get out of this man's town to some place where you can see the sky?"

Suddenly through Susan's mind flashed the thought of the ranch Bob had described to her—herself in a printed apron, her hair blowing in the wind. It was a pleasant picture. She wondered how she had allowed a middle-aged man with a full concept of life to let her think she could abandon it.

"You're sweet, Ray," Susan said humbly.

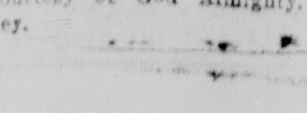

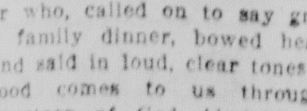

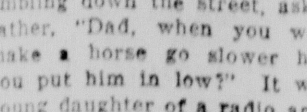

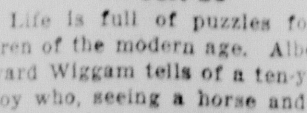

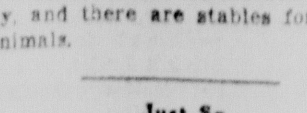

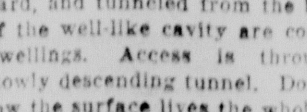

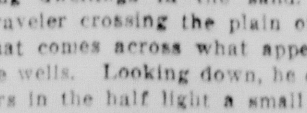

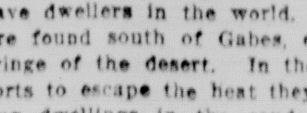

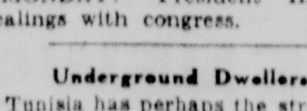

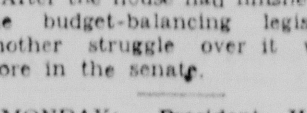

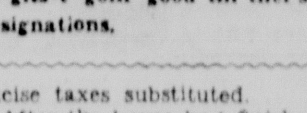

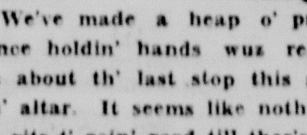

"Don't try to kid me." The other girl blinked and there was a tear on the end of her foolishly bearded lash. "Come along and don't forget to ask me to the wedding."

"I won't," Susan promised. She hurried along the street with dancing steps.

Beautiful Peonie Beds
One of the most beautiful sights in town is the peonie beds at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Senger. About this time of the year or a little later there are hundreds of the beautiful bright red variety in full bloom. Mrs. Senger said they surely would have enough this year for everyone at Memorial Day.

Musical Recital
The piano students of Miss Emma Schubert presented a recital at her home Wednesday evening. Those from here who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Gonnerman and her daughter, Marie Wallace who appeared on the program; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fish and daughter, Miss Joan, who was a member of the recital talent; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Buck and daughters, their youngest daughter Darlene, played two selections; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Blank and daughter, Jean who also was a member of the recital; Mrs. Frank Hatch and June, who played two pieces. Miss Shippert has a large class all of whom are doing much credit to themselves and the teacher, who certainly is untiring in her efforts with her pupils.

Obituary
Antone Albrecht, aged 63, son of Mrs. B. Albrecht of Ashton, and a brother of Charles, of this place, passed away Monday morning at his home near Janesville, Wisconsin, following an illness of many months duration.

Mr. Albrecht, born in 1866, was a native of Bradford township, south of this place, where he spent the greater part of his life, and was well and favorably known by a large circle of friends. He moved to Janesville, Wisconsin, in 1920. He was united in marriage December 31, 1890, with Miss Catherine Hockman.

To this union were born seven children all of whom, but one, Gertrude, with the mother survive. The children are Mrs. Carrie A. Reinhardt, Mrs. Amanda Schaefer, and Mrs. Mary Full of this county, Clara, George and Lucille residing at home. There are five grandchildren.

Mr. Albrecht is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Marcus, Charles and George; Mrs. Martha Ventler, Mrs. Kate Hart, Mrs. Mary Degner and Mrs. Emma Ventler of this community and Mrs. Clara Kelly of Rockford.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon in the St. John's Lutheran church in Ashton. Interment was made in the Ashton cemetery.

Obituary
The death of Mrs. James Lookingland, who had been failing in health for some time, passed away Sunday morning at her home southwest of town, where she and her husband had resided the past few years.

The deceased was a quiet woman, an good in every way. Her home life was of that humble, self-sacrificing sort for the accomplishment of her household duties and for the glory of her hearth. Her quietness was sublime.

Mary A. Rose, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Rose, was born December 31, 1850, in Carroll county, Md., and after a lingering illness passed away May 15, 1932, aged 81 years, 5 months and 2 days.

In 1872 she came with her parents to Franklin Grove, in which county she lived the remainder of her life.

February 22, 1887, she was united in marriage to James Lookingland, having no children of her own, she welcomed into her home and was a mother to Lester Barkley who in turn has proven himself a devoted and loving friend.

She was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church of Hanover, Pa., of an unselfish and self-sacrificing disposition, she was always willing to give up her own desires for the comfort and happiness of her family and friends.

She is survived by her husband, one sister—Mrs. Lizzie Hoff of Nachusa. Her parents and a brother preceded her in death.

Rev. O. D. Buck of the Brethren church conducted the funeral services at the late home Tuesday afternoon with interment in the Emmert cemetery west of town.

Mrs. Earl Buck and Mrs. Clifford Blocher sang several comforting hymns.

Senior Class Activities
Paper Staff of the "Spirit of '32" were entertained Friday evening at the home of the Editor-in-Chief, Miss June Conlon. A most delightful evening was spent in playing games. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wason won first prize at bridge, Virgil Wason and Miss Ruth Cupp won first in 500. The staff consists of the following:

There will be orchestra music during the evening.
Class picnic to be held at Deer Park, June 2.

The class had their pictures taken Wednesday, and all is well.

Drowned in Lake Michigan
This community was shocked on Tuesday evening when word was passed around that Fred Hussey had drowned himself in Lake Michigan at Evanston.

When a small lad Fred came, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jomerie Hussey from Amboy and lived until manhood in the place now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. James Conlon. He was especially popular among his friends in those days and was very helpful in the Methodist church of which he was a member while he became the head of the Hussey & Berglund Lumber Company, of Glen Ellyn. He never once forgot his friends and early associates of Franklin Grove.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon in Amboy, with burial there. He is survived by his aged mother, Mrs. Ella Hussey, and two brothers, Warren and Rush Hussey. Much tender sympathy is being expressed for the mother in this very sad hour.

Presbyterian Notes
Sunday school at 9:30.
Worship services at 10:30, with sermon theme—"Patriotism of Jesus"—pre-Memorial message.

—A. E. Thomas, Minister.
Methodist Notes
Sunday school at 10:00.
Worship services at 11:00.

—Charles D. Wilson, Minister.
Brethren Notes
Sunday morning is the time suggested by our General Mission Board that each congregation take a special conference offering. In these depressing times we need to keep the church serving and therefore, each member should give to the extent of their ability to the general as well as the local work of the church.

Sunday evening beginning at 7:30, the Baccalaureate service will be held in our church. Rev. C. D. Wilson of the Methodist church will bring to us the message. This is a community service, planned especially for the graduating class of the Franklin Grove Community High School and should be well attended.

O. D. Buck, Elder.
Camp Ground Notes
About forty men gathered at the camp grounds Friday and they surely did do a good job of cleaning up the grounds for the first meeting which will be held about June 15th.

Ell Hull who was the efficient caretaker of the swimming pool last year will again have charge of the pool, but will also be manager of the grounds, taking the place of Rev. Warren Hutchinson who was transferred from Compton to Orangeville, last October.

Mrs. Ruby Reigle, the retiring president, then turned the meeting over to the newly-elected president, Mrs. E. R. Buck, who in a few well-chosen words, expressed her appreciation of the honor and responsibility, and her hope that all might continue to co-operate in this interest of the club, and that a considerable number might be added to the present list of workers. A token of appreciation was presented Mrs. Reigle, the out-going president, with an expression of thankfulness from the club as a whole for her faithfulness and dependability as presiding officer coming from a park in all kinds of weather to take her place.

Mrs. Buck appointed the chairmen of departments, also the social committee. These with the elected officers, form the following list for the coming year:

President—Mrs. E. R. Buck
First vice president—Mrs. F. J. Blocher.

Second vice president—Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes
Recording secretary—Mrs. Leland Hanson
Financial secretary—Mrs. Minnie Brown.

Treasurer—Mrs. W. L. Moore.
Chairmen of departments—Fine arts, Mrs. W. L. Moore; American homes, Mrs. Medrick Hussey; Civics, Mrs. Elizabeth Sunday; Community Service, Mrs. W. L. Reigle; Conservation, Mrs. Romanza Greeley; Garden, Mrs. Wilbur Breunier.

Social committee—Mrs. F. J. Blocher, Mrs. E. Baltzley, and Miss Clara Lahman. The press chairman and park chairman will be appointed later.

Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Buck told of the district convention recently held in Galena, giving some very interesting facts concerning the program and addresses, also the town itself, the former home of General Grant, as well as the site of many other historical events. The meeting came to a close with many words of appreciation to the hostess and social committee for the fine hospitality shown.

W. F. M. S. Institute
Plans are developing for the Women's Foreign Missionary Society Institute which is to be held on the Franklin Grove Camp Ground commencing on Wednesday, June 15, and lasting till Sunday, June 19, and lasting till Sunday. A few of the preliminary suggestions sent out to the local auxiliaries:

Aim: reality—awareness of God, leading to a great desire to share Him.

Prayer: "take the dimness of my soul away."

Method: "Become as little children."

A week full of good things is being planned for all who attend the institute at Franklin Grove. Come appointed as delegates to the Illinois State Federation Convention to be held in Chicago May 17-20, and Mrs. Baltzley was appointed as alternate. Spring work at Flatiron Park was reported by the chairman, Mrs. Minnie Brown, also a few plans being developed for the Community Iris Show and the club window at the Rochelle Garden and Tulip Show to be held May 19, were reported by the Garden chairman. The matter of reducing the membership fee of the club was discussed at some length and it was decided to cut it in half, making the annual fee seventy-five cents. The object of the club is community improvement and it is earnestly hoped that the membership list may be materially increased by next fall when the year's work again begins. A membership committee, consisting of Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Sunday and Mrs. Breunier have this in charge, and any member of this committee will be glad to receive names for the new list.

Mrs. Ruby Reigle, the retiring president, then turned the meeting over to the newly-elected president, Mrs. E. R. Buck, who in a few well-chosen words, expressed her appreciation of the honor and responsibility, and her hope that all might continue to co-operate in this interest of the club, and that a considerable number might be added to the present list of workers. A token of appreciation was presented Mrs. Reigle, the out-going president, with an expression of thankfulness from the club as a whole for her faithfulness and dependability as presiding officer coming from a park in all kinds of weather to take her place.

Mrs. Buck appointed the chairmen of departments, also the social committee. These with the elected officers, form the following list for the coming year:

President—Mrs. E. R. Buck
First vice president—Mrs. F. J. Blocher.

Second vice president—Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes
Recording secretary—Mrs. Leland Hanson
Financial secretary—Mrs. Minnie Brown.

Treasurer—Mrs. W. L. Moore.
Chairmen of departments—Fine arts, Mrs. W. L. Moore; American homes, Mrs. Medrick Hussey; Civics, Mrs. Elizabeth Sunday; Community Service, Mrs. W. L. Reigle; Conservation, Mrs. Romanza Greeley; Garden, Mrs. Wilbur Breunier.

Social committee—Mrs. F. J. Blocher, Mrs. E. Baltzley, and Miss Clara Lahman. The press chairman and park chairman will be appointed later.

Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Buck told of the district convention recently held in Galena, giving some very interesting facts concerning the program and addresses, also the town itself, the former home of General Grant, as well as the site of many other historical events. The meeting came to a close with

Swope Honored for Public Service

It was "in recognition of his widespread public services" that Gerard Swope (right), president of the General Electric Company, was being presented with the gold medal of the National Institute of Social Sciences by Owen D. Young (left), chairman of the board of the company, when this picture was taken. The bestowal of the medal featured that institute's annual dinner in New York.
